Officials Want to Learn How Much Ward Money Paid to Blackmailers

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 10.—Deputies from Sheriff Werner's office today were searching for George S. Ward and Ralph D. Ward, father and brother of Walter S. Ward, confessed killer of Clarence Eptors.

BILL OF EXCEPTIONS IN ROULETTE WHEEL CASE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 10.—A bill of exceptions and a petition for a writ of error were presented to the United States district court here today by counsel for Edward T. Bannan, New Bedford lawyer, in his damage suits against Frank L. Murray and James E. Moran, both of East Greenwich, R. I., and John F. Hennessy, East Providence, R. I., to recover damages of money alleged by him to have been lost on roulette wheels said to have been mechanically controlled by the defendants so that winning was impossible.

Federal Judge Brown recently sustained demurrers of the defendants in the grounds that the courts are not required to sit as arbiters of the gambling table. Presentation of the bill of exceptions and petition for a writ of error pave the way for an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals at Boston. Bannan seeks $100,000 damages; each from Murray and Hennessy and $75,000 from Moran.

BASEBALL GAME IS CALLED OFF

The game between Lowell high and Manchester, N. H., high school baseball teams, scheduled for Spaulding park this afternoon was called off at 12 o'clock owing to the threatening weather conditions.

TOLLING OF THE BELLS

The occasional tolling of the bells of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street last night between 10 o'clock and midnight voiced the joy of the directors of the community in the success that was being achieved in the drive to raise funds which will be utilized in paying off the interest on the mortgage held by a local bank on the community real estate. Every time a large donation was received the bells were tolled.

GAME CALLED OFF

The G.M.A.C.-Lawrence K. of G. game, scheduled for this afternoon on the textile campus, was cancelled on account of wet grounds.

$250,000 LOSS CAUSED BY FIRE

Two Business Blocks Destroyed, Two Others Damaged at Woonsocket, R. I.

Apparatus From Providence, Central Falls, R. I., and Worcester, Mass., Called

WOONSOCKET, R. I., June 10.—Loss estimated at about three-quarters of a million dollars was caused by a fire that destroyed two business blocks and damaged two others in the center of the business district today. The Woonsocket Call Publishing Co. lost its plant, and with an individual loss of $200,000, was probably the principal sufferer, but arranged to publish its newspaper as usual this afternoon from the office of the Pawtucket Times.

The Crowell building and the Buell building, both on Main street, were the structures destroyed. The Mullen building, in which the Strand theatre was situated, and the Buckland building, in the vicinity of Market square, were less seriously damaged.

The fire was eventually controlled with the assistance of apparatus that came from Worcester, Mass., Providence and Central Falls. When the water supply appeared to be running short the engines pumped water from the Blackstone river.

Six firemen were injured when the walls of the Crowell building collapsed. Their escape from death was considered remarkable. Two required hospital treatment but two others were able to return after having their injuries dressed.

The fire started in the Crowell building, spread quickly to the Buell building, in which the newspaper office was situated, attacked the Buckland building from the rear, and gained a brief foothold in the Mullen building.

In the Crowell building the principal firms burned out were James J. Wood, remnants; Warte's sample shop; Fiat Shoe store; the Woonsocket Commercial school; Morris Plan bank and East End.

In the Buell building, the Woonsocket Call plant; the New England Coal Co., and Charles E. Cook, a printer, were the principal occupants. A. S. Cook & Co., furniture dealers, and the Bay State Furniture Co., suffered the principal losses in the Buckland building. The Mullen Furniture Co. sustained loss to its sales rooms and stocks in its building.

The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. is at present making arrangements to handle the annual outing and excursion parties to the beaches and other popular summer resorts. Supt. Whelan says that transportation will be greatly facilitated if prospective parties will enter their dates as soon as possible and thus avoid unnecessary confusion and delay. The Employees' Mutual Benefit associations of the various stores will make their annual excursions at a date to be announced later. Nahant, Lynn or Revere will probably be the objective of most organizations this year as in the past.

BIDS OPEN ON TOURING CAR FOR MAYOR

The city purchasing agent opened bids today at 11 o'clock for a touring car for the mayor's department at a cost not to exceed $3000. The Lowell Anderson Motor Co. bidding on a 7-passenger model submitted a proposal to furnish a car for $1795. This was the lowest bid received. The highest bid was put in by the Packard Sales Co. on a seven-passenger light six model. This bid was $2398, just $2 under the maximum.

The bids received were as follows: M. H. Anderson Motor Co., Bay State touring car, $1800; coupe, $2450; sedan, $2593.75; Thomas B. Rafter, Haynes, $2650; Ralph D. Collins, Jordan, $1966; Lowell Anderson Motor Co., Anderson, 7-passenger touring $1795, sport model $2395; M. C. Motor Co., Apperson, $2379; Packard Sales Co., Packard, 7-passenger, light six, $2398.

After the bids had been opened Mayor Brown was asked whether he had determined which car to buy. He said that he had not given the order and probably would not make up his mind for a day or two.

The car bought will be for the mayor's exclusive use and also he will use the Hudson coupe, formerly used by Commissioner Salmon, which now is being overhauled.

THE CIRCUS BEAUTIFUL

Poor Weather, But a Great Show—Wonderful Day for the Kids

Circus came to town today. Two Bengal tigers broke away. Circus man, says he to me, "Somebody got to catch them cats, you see."

I says, "Yes, someone's got to catch them cats, you see." "Somebody else, not me." Today is circus day in Lowell—perhaps not the best sort of circus day, atmospherically speaking—but nevertheless circus day in every sense of the word and holding its time honored appeal for both young and old.

The Sells-Floto circus, "the circus beautiful," embracing not only the usual run of circus features but including a portion at least of what used to be the 101 Wild West show, pulled into the city shortly after 4 o'clock this morning. On the spur track that runs in the rear of the old Fair grounds in Gorham street.

On the lot that has been the scene of scores of circuses in other years, the big tents were raised in anticipation of the day.

FIRST CABINET WEDDING OF ADMINISTRATION

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The first cabinet wedding of the Harding administration will be that late today of Miss Catherine Hughes, daughter of the secretary of state and Mrs. Hughes, and Chauncey Lockhart, Wadsworth of New York. The wedding will be held at the Bethlehem chapel of the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul and will be followed by a reception at the Pan-American building.

The president and Mrs. Harding, all the members of the cabinet and the entire diplomatic corps will be among the guests.

GREAT SUCCESS BUT NO REPORT

Rev. Percy E. Thomas, named some time ago by Mayor Brown as his representative in local labor difficulties today was in conference with the mayor at a city hall.

On the conclusion of the conference the mayor gave out the statement that he had requested Rev. Mr. Thomas to continue his work of investigation and that the latter had consented to do so.

"I believe that Rev. Mr. Thomas has been very successful in obtaining information from both sides in the textile strike," said Mayor Brown, "and I am glad that he will give more of his time to it in the future."

It could not be learned as to whether or not Rev. Mr. Thomas has been successful or instrumental in solving any of the local labor troubles, but the mayor is satisfied that his work has been of little value.

MANCHESTER TEXTILE STRIKER HERE ON VISIT ENDS LIFE BY SUICIDE AT HOME OF HIS BROTHER

Thomas Tomasik, Despondent Over Lack of Work, Inhales Illuminating Gas at House in First Street—Came to Lowell Last Night to Visit Relatives

Thomas Tomasik, aged 38 years, of Manchester, N. H., committed suicide this morning by inhaling illuminating gas at the home of his brother, Stanislaus Tomasik, rear of 94 First street, this city. He had come here for a visit last night and it is believed that he became despondent because he had been out of work for several months and had a wife and three children to support. He was a textile worker, on strike in the New Hampshire city.

Tomasik arrived in this city early last evening and went directly to the home of his brother. When he retired for the night he seemed to be in good spirits.

This morning at 7 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Stanislaus Tomasik left their home for work and when they returned at noon they were unable to open the kitchen door, which had been locked from the inside. They finally succeeded in entering the flat and then detected an odor of gas, which they followed to a bedroom in the rear of the house. There they found Tomasik lying in bed, half clothed. By his side was a small rubber tube, one end of which was attached to the gas fixture in the wall and gas was escaping freely.

The windows of the room were drawn wide open and a hurried call for the ambulance was sent in, but when the ambulance doctor arrived he found life extinct and declared the man had been dead several hours.

Tomasik was employed one of the Manchester, N. H., mills but had been out of work since the strike was declared there some three months ago. He made his home at 135 Orange street. The body was viewed by Medical Examiner T. B. Martin.

It recommendations of Councilor Edward M. Appleton, chairman of the public buildings committee, are followed out, the mayor will be asked to approve a special appropriation for the building department amounting to $25,000 for necessary repairs at the high school and a number of elementary schools in the city and at the police station.

Unless a special appropriation is voted, the work cannot be done this year out of the money available in the buildings department and, according to Councilor Appleton, repairs are seriously needed in many of the buildings.

In the old part of the high school, $10,000 worth of repairs are necessary including calculating of rooms, corridors and the assembly hall, varnishing, painting in the basement, repainting floors and plaster, renewing stair treads and other minor work. After a tour of inspection by the committee on public buildings, Chairman Appleton was authorized to submit recommendations for needed repairs. These recommendations also included removing the present dry closet systems from the Moody and Oaklands schools, at a cost of $5500, and provide for new gutters and conductors at the Worthen street, Edson, High street, Green, Carter street, Lincoln and Colburn primary schools, and also at the police station.

Early next week Councilor Appleton will confer with the city solicitor and city auditor on the matter of an appropriation to cover the work recommended and some action probably will be taken at the next meeting of the council.

Just what the mayor's attitude will be is problematical, for he has stated on several occasions that he does not favor supplementary budgets, but unless the money is secured in this manner, there is no possibility of the work being done this year and in the mind of the committee, it is of real necessity.

Anti-Pinchot G. O. P. Forces Win Victory

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—The regular organization forces of the republican party in Pennsylvania won a victory over the supporters of Gifford Pinchot, republican candidate for governor, today, when they elected W. Harry Baker of Harrisburg, chairman of the state committee. His opponent for the position was Gen. Asher Miner of Wilkesbarre, a World war veteran.

N. Y. Woman Traps Burglar in Room

NEW YORK, June 10.—A rattlo of shots, just outside her door, awoke Mrs. Pearl Noble in her Riverside Drive apartment early today. In the darkness she caught a glimpse of a furtive figure slinking into her dressing room. She jumped up and locked the dressing room door. "I've got him here, safe as a rat in a trap," she said a minute later to the policeman who knocked at her door. He was Edward Pearson, who was trying to escape down a fire escape after ransacking several rooms. He entered Mrs. Noble's apartment to escape shots fired at him.

19 Ordained to Priesthood at Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, June 10.—Nineteen young men from all parts of the Roman Catholic diocese of Springfield, were ordained to the priesthood by Bishop O'Leary in St. Michael's cathedral this morning. It was the largest number that has been ordained here since Bishop O'Leary assumed the bishopric and the ceremony was witnessed by many clergymen and a congregation that filled the cathedral.

Walsh Threatens Congressional Probe

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, in a statement today said that a congressional investigation would be made and indictment of bituminous coal operators who have used the Hoover price fixing agreement to raise prices would be demanded, unless Secretary Hoover obtained reductions of prices on contract coal "in a few days."

SERIOUS DISORDERS AT COAL MINE

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 10.—Serious disorders broke out at the Riley coal mine and Kern Coal Co.'s mines near here early today. Three hundred men, some armed, were reported forming for a march to the Riley mine, while a party of 100 men are reported to have attacked the Kern Co.'s mine, overturning cars of coal and attacking and seriously injuring one of the men employed there.

Question 23 in Slaying of Matron

JACKSON, Mich., June 10.—Jackson police and county authorities today were questioning 23 men taken into custody within the last 24 hours in connection with the slaying late Thursday night of Miss Alice Mallett, matron of the Crittenden home for girls here. Jackson officers also were following a circus from Sandusky to Painesville, Ohio. The circus was in the city at the time of the slaying. Attaches of the organization are being questioned. Miss Mallett was killed with an axe, after a struggle, near the Crittenden home.

MUSIC WEEK IN WASHINGTON AN EVENT OF GREAT SPLENDOR

Rumor That Tariff Will Go Over Till December Rife in Washington--Nearly 2000 Amendments Pending--Mr. Rogers Hit on Child Labor Law--Indian Divorce Ceremony in Court at Capitol

(Special to The Sun.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.—Following the splendid tribute to Lincoln at the dedication of the great temple on the banks of the Potomac, came Music Week, which all Washington entered into with a zest seldom seen. Everything from patriotic songs by thousands of school children to magnificent sacred music by cathedral choirs brought from distant states, was on the program. One of the incidents that showed the genuine affection in which President and Mrs. Harding held little children came on Saturday, when the week was to have been brought to a close by a "Serenade to the President," sung by 300 small children specially drilled for the occasion, and on which their hearts were set. It was to have been given down by the great Lincoln Memorial, but at the last moment plans were uprooted by a tremendous thunder storm with torrents of rain. Then Mrs. Harding and the president opened wide the White House doors and in flooded the 300 drenched little kids and the program was carried out just as if nothing had happened. "We couldn't persuade the sun to shine," said the president to a score of more children who gathered round him, "but you've brought enough of sunshine into the White House to make up for it." Mrs. Harding gave the children flowers out of the great vases that flanked the East Room walls, and the children sang to their hearts' content and had a grand good time notwithstanding the heavy storm outside. Some one not long ago likened the genuine simple hospitality of the White House under the Harding administration to "Main Street," and the president is quoted as having laughed and replied he regarded it a great compliment. The fact is the president and Mrs. Harding are so well bred, well poised, and sure of themselves that they are not afraid to be true to themselves and their traditions and be cordial to their guests. But though Music Week was one of peace and melody along the line of its own chosen purpose, congress has sung quite a different tune. War songs have predominated, with Robinson of Georgia, Caraway and Robinson of Arkansas leading the chorus in lusty, if not melodious tones. The only variation has been a shift of key from kind of "peniculous republican policies" of one sort to those of another, no matter in what key the tune was pitched. And the republicans joined loudly in the chorus of party discontent. McCumber, chairman of the finance committee, came so near a personal clash with Watson of Georgia that only the intervention of senators sitting between those two men saved the day from something far more serious than a war of words. Senatorial rules and senatorial courtesy have been flung aside by men of both parties, whose nerves are on edge and who physically feel the strain of eleven hours daily sessions with the humidity running up to 95 degrees and the thermometer registering the same. It's been a very trying week from point of work and weather and congress is showing the strain.

Talk of Tariff Going Over

There is still an undercurrent of talk to the effect that the tariff will go over to the December session on account of the impossibility of securing an agreement on the 2000 pending amendments to the bill as it came over from the senate. Senator Clado, floor leader stoutly avers it will pass before adjournment. That the bonus will be brought up and passed in some form seems pretty well assured, but the rumor that the president will veto it, and will stand side by side with the Secretary of the Treasury Mellon against its present adoption in the proposed form, seems a foregone conclusion. The word has gone forth with seeming authority, that President Harding without consent of the president, but by congress of a merchant marine and subsidy bill, and that if an adjournment is attempted without such action he will call them back this fall in extra session. Congress can fix its own time for adjournment and can adjourn without consent of the president, but the president has the constitutional power to summon them back immediately by calling an extra session whenever he thinks proper.

There is a rumor also that the tariff bill will be recommended to the finance committee and be taken up in 2000 amendments and come back in more concise form in hope of stopping debate. Only one thing seems certain. The house has practically completed its work and will soon begin a series of three days recesses to continue till the senate catches up. Under the constitution the house cannot adjourn till the senate does, for more than three days at a time, except by consent of the senate. That consent will not be asked so three day recesses with no business of importance or requiring a quorum, will be the order of the day.

Child Labor Law

Congressman Rogers made a ten strike in the opinion of his colleagues when he secured from President Harding a statement that he would soon bring before the house in a special message the question of establishing a child labor law that would be effective in all states. Mr. Rogers personally visited the president and urged such a step, and the president replied he would take it under consideration. The following day Mr. Rogers received a letter from President Harding in which he stated that he had determined to take up the matter at a very early date and that he was in sympathy with the purposes of the Rogers bill, submitted within a year. Four years ago the supreme court declared the law passed by congress regulating child labor was unconstitutional. Last year another child labor law was passed only to be declared unconstitutional by the court a few weeks ago. Mr. Rogers is convinced the only way to obtain a law that will be operative in all states and not run across an unconstitutional snag is to amend the constitution to cover the points. The president said to Mr. Rogers, he believed the Rogers bill right in substance but perhaps would need modification before it received administrative endorsement. He did not intimate, so far as is known, just what line he proposed to advocate but that it will not follow the same general principle of the Rogers bill seems assured. On account of its great textile plants Massachusetts is especially interested in a uniform law regarding child labor, both on the ground of humanitarianism and industrial prosperity.

Indian Divorce Scene in Court

An echo from Old Rome was heard in the courts here yesterday when the judge sat in silence and listened to Alex Clado issue a tribal divorce from his gypsy wife. It was a case of the eternal triangle and all three of the persons interested in the case one man and two women—were in court. But before the presiding judge had much to say the knight of the gypsies took the floor and told how he had been deserted by his young wife and insisted that the tribal customs in which he had been reared should govern the case. Then the big dark hued man, went through the formal ceremony of divorcing the girl wife. Just as if he had been far away in the home of his tribe, instead of in the courts of the capital of the United States, in reply to questions by the judge, Clado said his wife "had divorced herself" when she strayed from her tent in Chicago some days ago. Under Roman law she has lost her tribal rights and her boy baby who may some day become ruler of the tribe—but may retain the girl baby on whom so much store is set. "Under the stars to the melody of the wedding song, did I take my Roman wife to my tent. Now she must be unwed as we of the open road do such things," said Clado with a tough dignity that was tremendously impressive. Then Clado proceeded to "unwed" her according to the tribal custom. The judge watched the ceremony with intense interest—when it was completed to the satisfaction of Clado, the judge again took a hand in the game and after admonition to the wife and the tribal section of the eternal triangle—threw the dark skinned gypsy, put them on probation. RICHARDS.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON BIRDS

In connection with the children's department of the city library, a fine illustrated bird, lecture will be given on Saturday morning, June 17, at 10 o'clock.

Prof. B. H. Forbush, the state ornithologist, author and lecturer, will be here with his large collection of colored slides.

Prof. Forbush is widely known as an interesting speaker and the library is very fortunate in securing him for the program.

The lecture will be free and all school children and their friends are especially invited to attend. It will be held in Memorial hall.

Dedicate Mark Twain Memorial Cabin

SONORA, Cal., June 10.—The Mark Twain Memorial cabin at Jackson Hill, near here, was dedicated here today with Gov. Stephens delivering the dedicatory address. Twain slept and ate in the cabin, which has been restored, during the time he prospected for gold in California. Twain left this district in 1865.

Attacked With Rifle and Machine Gun

DUBLIN, June 10.—The houses at Athenry, County Galway, of disbanded Royal Irish constabulary men who had ignored warnings to leave town were attacked last night with rifles and machine guns, says a despatch from a correspondent at Tuam today. No casualties were reported but the constables took the forceful hint and are leaving, it was added.

MRS. ALEXANDER BRADLEY'S FIVE-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER DANGEROUSLY ILL

Here is a little bit of true life put into a letter. Mrs. Alexander Bradley of Danbury, Conn., says: "After a long years trying different remedies I have at last found a good medicine—Dr. True's Elixir.

"I was nearly discouraged. I was having the oldest girl something early every night, but now I keep a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir handy, and only give it occasionally. I have tried so many things but now as soon as I see signs of worms I give Dr. True's Elixir for quick relief.

"My son, 14 years of age, was ways troubled with worms when small and Dr. True's was unknown to me then. I always have it on hand now, as I have another small child. They even ask for more. Now please print this letter so other anxious mothers may know the good results which follow Dr. True's Elixir for children suffering with worms and constipation, as I cannot recommend it too highly."

Symptoms to watch: Constipation, offensive breath, swollen upper lip, deranged stomach, occasional pains, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, short, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, red points on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

A great deal of sickness comes from irregular bowels, a vital part of the body. At the first signs of constipation give Dr. True's Elixir—for it is the right kind—pleasant to take, with no gripping or distressing after-effects.

A well-known New Yorker writes: "While visiting in historic old Plymouth, (Mass.) my family became acquainted with your Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. It does all you claim for it in aiding digestion and relieving insomnia and constipation. Please ship me six large size bottles, for mother is in need of it."—Wm. I. Ralph.

Nearly every grown-up as well as every child needs a laxative. Keep the bowels regular by using Dr. True's Elixir. 40c—60c—$1.20.

NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

For Weak, Nervous People

Elvita Pills Enrich the Blood, Strengthen the Nerves, Build Up Physical Power, Give Vigor and Nervous Power to Nervous, Tired Out, Despondent People. Elvita Pills have stood the test for over 40 years. Thousands praise them for ridding the system of general debility, nervous prostration, nervous weakness, exhaustion, mental depression and unstrung nerves, caused by the influence of or from overindulgence in alcohol, tobacco or excesses of any kind.

Elvita Bromo-Gentian Comp. is a better tonic. It stimulates the appetite and aids digestion—25 years in private practice has proven it to be exceedingly valuable in nervous dyspepsia and nervous or irritable stomachs. A teaspoonful or two taken before retiring helps to insure a restful sleep. Sold at druggists. $1 a bottle.

The Famous Elvita Remedies are sold in Lowell by Sam McCord, 230 Merrimack St., Fred Howard, 124 Central St., and all reliable druggists.

DO YOU SLEEP BADLY?

Some people lie awake for hours, vainly trying to get sleep. Others wake up suddenly for no apparent cause and are unable to get to sleep again. Undernourished nerves are the most common cause of insomnia. A tonic for the nerves is needed as is shown by the case of Mrs. G. H. Kilder of No. 1176 High Street, Bath, Me. "I was very nervous," says Mrs. Kilder, "and night noises would give me such a start that I would be all of a tremble. I did not sleep well and had so much trouble getting to sleep that I often took a book to bed with me and read until I fell asleep. Sometimes I would keep up reading and find myself so tired that I would not be able to sleep. I took medicine for my nerves but nothing seemed to help me until I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and gave them a trial. After a week's treatment I could see a change in myself. My nerves were more quiet and I was able to sleep better. Then I recovered strength and had more energy. I awoke in the morning feeling rested and refreshed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have helped me wonderfully and I am glad to recommend them to any who need a tonic for the nerves."

Quarter Century Ago

From the old Sun I learn that 25 years ago Senator Lodge was appealed to by many Massachusetts citizens to use his influence in hastening the passage of the tariff bill, then before Congress, as this statement from The Sun will show: "A petition signed by many friends has been sent to Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, United States senator, asking for action on the tariff bill, in which after a discussion of the business depression and the proposed tariff legislation is imperatively needed and earnestly hoped and believe that your best efforts will be directed to secure its early enactment."

It is a peculiar coincidence that today Senator Lodge is the man to whom the nation looks to hasten the passage of the tariff bill, which for good or ill is much desired by the business interests which wish to know the new conditions as soon as possible. The "Shut" Club

"In spite of the rain, the unrelieved newspapermen of Lowell yesterday accepted the invitation of Supt. J. J. Storer of the Lowell, Lawrence & Haverhill railroad to an outing at Glen Forest, one of the most beautiful summer resorts in New England. The delegation included publishers, editors, reporters and advertising men. Various amusements were enjoyed and a banquet was served at which the representatives of the various newspapers were called upon and responded in a peculiar way. Among the principal speakers were John H. Harrington, ex-Senator Edward F. Sullivan of Lawrence and ex-Alderman Bruce.

"Mr. Sternberg of the News was called upon to speak for the 'Shut' club, of which he said he was president. Financial secretary and board of directors, while the only other member is secretary, spiritual adviser, medical examiner, and committee on ways without means. Part of his remarks were played on the tin whistle. The 'Shut' club was made up of the Sternbergs and the late James Hearn. They were very close friends. 'Stern' was very witty and was something of a vocalist and in addition he played the tin whistle which he always carried with him. The 'Shut' club is well remembered by the older members of the newspaper fraternity. After the News gave up the ghost, 'Stern' entered the employ of the street railway company, then I believe, under the management of Mr. P. Sullivan, who brought him here from Washington. Sternberg died several years before the passing of his friend, Mr. Hearn. They were two first class newspapermen, but Mr. Hearn was by far the more accomplished as a writer.

High School Officers

Twenty-five years ago, the field day of the high school was held at the Fair grounds. From the old Sun, the following is taken relative to the prizes and list of officers:

"The first prize, a beautiful gold medal, was awarded to Corp. Davis of Company A, while the second prize, a silver medal, went to Sergt. Hadley of Company B.

"The roster of regimental officers was: Colonel, James F. Monaghan; lieutenant-colonel, Leslie J. Welton; regimental adjutant, Frank J. Lohby; quartermaster, George Gardner; aid, Lieut. Martin Garo. Commissioned staff: Major L. E. Cook, R.S.C.; Capt. J. R. Thurlow, Company A, second battalion; Adjutant William H. Childs, M.H.S.M.B.; Lieuts. J. J. Phalen, Company A, second battalion; C. F. Wilson, Company D, first battalion; T. J. O'Donnell, Company B, second battalion."

Wed 25 Years Ago

A very pretty wedding occurred last evening, (June 2), at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jewett, 49 French street, when their daughter, Miss Annette E. Jewett, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph H. Goss. The bride was given away by her father. Her maid was her sister, Miss Lizzie E. Jewett, and the best man was Mr. Leonard J. Jewett, a brother of the bride.

"The marriage of Edward G. Bradley of Cliftonville, Alabama, and Miss Frances Knowles, daughter of Mr. Jefferson Knowles, took place yesterday, (June 2), at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Morse, 238 Price street, Rev. Charles T. Billings performing the ceremony.

"The marriage of Mr. Edward Martin of this city, and Lottie Maria Rosworth, occurred Tuesday evening, (June 2), in the Tabernacle church, Salem, Rev. Dewitt S. Clark performing the ceremony.

"A very happy nuptial event took place in North Chelmsford, last evening, (June 2), when Patrick J. Maloney, the popular assistant engineer at the power house, and Miss Fuld B. Tynan were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Shaw, at St. John's parochial residence."

Life of Gov. Greenhalge

From the old Sun: "A very handsome volume on the life of the late Governor Greenhalge has just been issued from the University Press, published by Robert Brothers, Boston. It is a book of 458 pages, large octavo size, full cloth and neat typographically.

"The author of the work is James B. NeSmith, whose close personal relations with Mr. Greenhalge enabled him to give to the public a large amount of personal and other matter which will be entirely new to the general reader.

"James B. NeSmith has a beautiful home in Andover street in which, in WILL PARTY who took board in May 25, from table in rear of Sacred Heart church returns to occupants to 153 B. St. No questions asked.

his cosy and admirably equipped study, he pursues his literary labors. He is a graduate of Harvard Law school and a member of the Middlesex bar, though he has never practiced law. He is a member of the Greenhalge club, the Country club and a local literary club which has never received a formal title. The first attempt at a prose publication, although he has written several essays of great merit. He has published two volumes of poems. He is a correct and profound writer. He is a brother-in-law of the late governor. "Mr. NeSmith died some ten years ago. He and Mr. Greenhalge were two kindred spirits who enjoyed each other's company very much. They were both literary men, but Mr. NeSmith seldom came into the bright light of publicity as did Greenhalge. His book on the late governor's life and speeches is one of the most readable by any Lowell author.

OLD TIMERLondon Looks for Settlement

next Monday, when the house of commons reassembles after its Whitstide recess.

The main questions which created difficulties when the draft of the Irish constitution was first submitted are now understood to have been settled satisfactorily, with the technical matters still under examination on a fair way to adjustment. A further meeting of the British signatories of the Anglo-Irish treaty is scheduled for today, and a conference with Arthur Griffith, the chief Irish delegate, possibly will follow.

Since the frontier trouble has been smoothed away, temporarily at least, and Michael Collins' speech in Dublin last night is taken here as an indication that the southern leaders are determined to avoid anything likely to keep the wound open. Nothing further has been heard from Collins' protest over the occupation of Pettigo by the military, and it is inferred that the British government has given assurance acceptable to Dublin.

The Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent understands that if it were arranged that the British troops would hold the border temporarily, replacing the Ulster special constables, all the Irish Republican army regulars would be withdrawn from that neighborhood. Such an arrangement, he says, is favored in the more important southern circles.

Sinn Féiners Attack House

BELFAST, June 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Sinn Féiners early today attacked a house in which a detachment of special constabulary was quartered. Their preparatory measure of extinguishing the street lamps aroused the suspicions of the guards, who awakened the sleeping constables.

A bomb was hurled through a skylight, but injured no one. This was followed by rapid revolver fire, which was likewise devoid of effect.

Several incendiary fires were reported this morning.

AT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

With Secretary-Manager G. F. Wells attending the Rotarians' convention in California and Assistant Secretary Edward W. Gallagher taking a day's leave of absence to attend the meeting at Swampscott of the New England Association of Commercial Executives, the local chamber of commerce quarters are enjoying a period of comparative inactivity over the week end. Even W. E. Brown, deputy regional executive of the boy scout movement was absent on business in another location, and the office was left in the hands of the lady clerks and the Salvation Army workers, who are using a section of the rooms during the drive that is now on.

Mr. Gallagher attended a meeting of the commercial executives' association in the western part of the state some time ago, and returned to Lowell with a great variety of new ideas to report to the chamber officials. It is not unlikely that his present visit will bear the same fruit, as the association is a live body.

750 Passengers Transferred From Liner

CHERBOURG, France, June 10.—(By the Associated Press)—In a thick fog out in the open sea, 750 of the White Star Liner Olympic's passengers for Cherbourg were transferred during the middle of the night from the steamer to tenders and landed at Cherbourg without mishap this morning. The Olympic entered a thick bank of "pea soup" fog, 20 miles out, making further progress shoreward hazardous. It was decided to put the passengers for Cherbourg on board the smaller craft, thus obviating the necessity of the Olympic actually entering the French port.

PINCH HITTER DESMOND'S SINGLE BRINGS VICTORY TO BROADWAYS

Single With Three On and Two Out Turns Apparent Defeat Into Great Victory—Sturtevant Allows But One Hit and Fans Eleven Y. M. C. I. Batters

Connie Desmond, the active and energetic pinch hitter for the Broadway club, lived up to his reputation as a pinch hitter in last evening's Twilight League game. Desmond, who had been in the sixth inning stepping up to the plate in place of Willard, and drove a sizzling single to right field, sending in the winning run. The game on the score 4 to 2, where it stood until the conclusion of the first string pitcher of the Broadways, was in top form last night, striking out 11, passing in the lead, and allowing one hit. Desmond, who was batting second, struck out on a passed ball, and hit five lines for a total of six bases. Desmond, who was batting second, struck out on a passed ball, and hit five lines for a total of six bases.

Fast Double Play
The game began most auspiciously for the Y.M.C.I. with a double play in the first inning. Desmond, who was batting second, struck out on a passed ball, and hit five lines for a total of six bases.

Y.M.C.I. Scores Two on Errors
The score stood 1-0 until the last of the fifth, when the Y.M.C.I. scored two on three errors. Desmond, who was batting second, struck out on a passed ball, and hit five lines for a total of six bases.

Three For Broadways
In the opening of the fifth, Gleason started off with a single to right center, and Klutka followed with a two-liner, barely reaching the second baseman, and Gleason was held at the plate. Desmond, who was batting second, struck out on a passed ball, and hit five lines for a total of six bases.

OUR BUSINESS NEEDS

It is to be regretted that the very instructive address delivered here on Thursday evening by former United States Senator Cartwright was not heard by a larger audience. His discussion of the economic conditions affecting business throughout the country, was the most convincing and illuminating heard here at any time, and we have had a great many discussions of business, its needs and the remedies for the depression now happily disappearing.

Mr. Cartwright told his audience that we cannot break an economic law with impunity and that the way in which we run about of this law, was in wild-eyed, world-wide agitation, feverish business activity, excessive expansion of credit and the pyramiding of prices.

Every panic in the last thousand years, says this authority, was world wide and was preceded by the same symptoms. The present panic is reversing the process by which we inflated during the war and for a time following the war. Here are a few statements made by Mr. Cartwright, which, it seems to us, put the situation precisely as it is and also indicate the way out:

"We've climbed up the mountain of credit and we've got to come down. We don't like to do it, but we must. The longer we delay unloading, the more we will lose. I am urging the retail merchants all over the country to deflate their prices as soon as possible in order that they may get off as easily as possible."

"Germany has already deflated before the end of the war. The result is that Germany has been selling goods and paying labor a great deal more than she did during the war. German industrial plants are booming, orders are coming in from all parts of the world. We are witnessing the spectacle of a nation defeated in war and victorious in peace. In Germany there are not enough idle men to furnish a natural turnover of labor."

"England and America and the other allies have been idle while Germany has opened up the markets of the world and got the business, because she deflated first."

"Discussing the question of wages, this speaker states a truth that is often lost sight of when he says there is a scientific wage high enough to afford the worker the comforts of life—enough for the merchant, the banker and worker; but low enough to enable our industries to compete with our strongest competitors and make a fair profit on their investment. If wages are lower than they should be, the purchasing power of the worker is impaired and he cannot purchase what he needs. Each group of workers is helping to pay the other groups; and if any one group gets more than its share, it is robbing the other groups. The problems of industry are not solved by fighting but in the forum of reason."

In such statements there is food for reflection for all those who are in any way interested in the fixing of wages, or in the settlement of labor troubles. There should be more discussion of these subjects and a more frequent resort to the forum of reason; but if either side to a dispute refuses to take part in any such discussion, the other parties can do nothing except hold out or surrender. That explains the interminable labor controversies which at present dot New England and settle nothing."

CONGESTION IN COURTS

Fully 75,000 depositors in the closed Boston trust companies may be compelled to wait one and possibly two years, or longer, for further dividends, because of thousands of cases awaiting trial in the superior courts. Attorney General Allen has filed a supplementary report with the legislature recommending that existing statutes relative to judicial procedure be changed so that in any action at law or suit in equity in the superior judicial court or in the superior court, the court may, on motion for cause shown, advance the action or suit for speedy trial. Unless this or similar legislation is enacted, the trial of many cases which must be determined before the closed banks can be completely liquidated and dividends paid to worrying depositors, probably will be delayed a year and even longer, according to county officials.

The move on the part of the attorney general appears to merit commendation of the legislature; for in the superior court, cases can be advanced for hearing when there is a good reason for prompt action. This is true also of cases before the United States supreme court and of certain other jurisdictions. The same ruling should be enacted to govern the disposition of docket cases for trial in the superior courts, as the attorney general suggests.

THE LUSK LAW

Out in New York, there is a conflict over the enforcement of the Lusk law which would have all public school teachers submit to a test of loyalty in the form of an examination by a special committee. The chairman of the board of education has just notified the teachers that they need not respond to the call of the advisory committee, which is conducting investigations as to the loyalty of teachers against whom complaints have been lodged. Some of the teachers when asked to sign a pledge not to advocate any change in the form of government, complied, but added in the margin their words: "Except as provided in the constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence."

The law is rapidly becoming a farce, and the board of education has good grounds for notifying teachers against whom the board has no complaint, not to notice the committee that have undertaken to enforce it. This

THE LUSK LAW

Lusk law is a result of the bitter socialist fight of some years ago. With the coming of hot weather it is in order to take special care of young children lest they become affected with the usual summer diseases which, if not promptly checked, will result in cholera-infantum. Where the little ones are penned in close tenements in very hot weather, it is difficult to keep them from being sick. A day's outing in the cool shade of some suburban wood or summer resort will greatly help to keep them in their normal health. With the hot weather, they usually lose their appetite and soon contract stomach disorders unless they receive proper care and treatment. Now is the time to look out for such ailments, as neglect of children under five years old, especially during very hot weather, may prove fatal later in the season. Precautions at this time will save lives and help to reduce the infant mortality.

FIREWATER

Robert Guilbert went to Paris as official taster for the Quebec liquor commission. His job is to sample various kinds of firewater, to make sure that his part of Canada will import only the best.

Guilbert reports that he is 3000 "mammings" behind. To preserve his efficiency and make his work-day last its usual length, he tastes the samples but does not swallow them.

What chance has the tariff or the cool strike or other mighty problems when the news contains such real fairy tales as this? It would be interesting to know how many Americans will consider Guilbert's job the height of success.

It is a man in a million—able to taste without swallowing. We have heard of some Americans who would take a job of that kind for a very small salary, but that no swallowing stipulation would bar them completely.

A CRIMINAL MENACE

Any man who uses a motorcycle side-car or an auto for the purpose of picking up young girls and running them into the wilds to assault them, should have short shrift from the police and the courts. Yet a man who has several assaults of this kind pending against him, reappears in court on a charge far more serious than many for which men have been lynched in the north. Every man of this type should be in jail as he is a menace to society while at large. Another side to such cases is the simplicity and foolishness of girls who accept an invitation to ride in a side-car or an auto from a strange man, who under the guise of politeness and civility, may be as ravenous as a wolf. Young girls can realize he expected to know or to realize their danger in accepting such invitations; but they might at least be expected to heed the warnings of older people not to leave themselves in the power of such men.

FLAPPERS

A statuette of a flapper who existed in Egypt 5000 years ago is exhibited in the Boston Art Museum. It was dug out of an ancient tomb.

The statuette shows the flapper looking forward. Her hair is bobbed. After 5000 years the earth's toiling millions still are bobbing hair and baking bread same as our long-gone ancestors. Does this indicate that mankind has undergone any great change in that time? If we had descended or ascended from apes, our progenitors of 5000 years ago should be a little more ape-like than we, but the difference is not discernible.

Life runs in cycles, eternal repetition. The parents of the ancient Egyptian flapper, probably made a great fuss when she came home from the hair-dresser's with her looks shorn.

BERAUCRATIC MEASURES

Much interest will center in the suit to be brought by Attorney General Allen to test the constitutionality of the Sheppard-Towner federal maternity act, which he declared to be clearly a violation of the tenth amendment. If his opinion in this respect be sustained, then the entire charge will apply equally to the whole series of bureaucratic measures emanating from Towner and a few others who seem to think that the national government should be bureaucratized and socialized at the expense of state rights. If Attorney General Allen succeeds in knocking out these bureaucratic measures, he will have rendered a very important service to the state and nation.

When certain South American natives go on the warpath, they take capt, a drug extracted from the root of a jungle tree. Caapi makes the warriors absolutely fearless, and super-humanly courageous, says Dr. H. H. Rusby, of Columbia University. He observed the drug in use while on a scientific expedition.

GOVERNOR COX BEATEN

In the defeat of the bill for state control of county correctional institutions, Governor Cox and Speaker Young suffered a rather severe defeat. The governor had advocated the change for many reasons, and there were numerous heated discussions of the proposition not only in the legislature, but outside. The close of the session, however, as in the previous year, saw the plan defeated by a vote of 83 in favor to 133, or a majority of 50 against. The result must cause Governor Cox to feel that he has lost his pull with the legislature as he and his friends have been outdone by the so-called "county rings."

FOR ASH COLLECTOR

Now that there is a list of eligibles for the position of superintendent of ash collector, it is presumed a choice will be made for a successor to Sutton Wilson. The salary fixed for Wilson was $15, but if this is out of proportion to the other salaries paid for similar work, it should be reduced. There was no need of the position anyhow, as the work could be done under the superintendent of streets as it was formerly done under the control of the health department or the superintendent of the yard.

It is too soon for the Central bridge to be giving way. It is seldom that even a poor job shows such disregard for the feelings of the contractors. The conditions under which the work was done, however, were such as to make a first class job almost impossible. Cement work on a bridge kept in continual vibration by heavy traffic is not likely to have the proper bond. The bond of the company, however, is pronounced all right by the law department.

Perhaps a little experimenting in street work will be beneficial in the long run. The board of public service has decided to have parts of Westford and other streets resurfaced with "Amiesite," a term which we confess is new to us; but the material may be all right although new to Lowell. The board experts are to be the judges. That is what they are paid for.

Mayor Curley has been unable to swing the legislature for the five cent fare and so one of his campaign promises has fallen by the wayside. With Lomasney fighting him from the inside he could hardly expect to win.

The Lowell Ad club with its "Scheming Circle" always planning something to help Lowell, is a real live and thoroughly progressive organization. It endeavors to help local industry, local merchandizing and to spread the fame of Lowell far and wide.

Doston, like New York, has now several murder mysteries which its police officials are unable to solve. The latest, that of Police Officer Farlington, seems to be the work of auto bandits, who left no evidence by which their identity could be traced.

Now suppose—merely suppose—the city council should confirm the mayor's nominees for the board of assessors, what might happen to the property owners of Lowell?

Dondos are banned on the Fourth of July. We have had too many bonfires in the past few weeks.

The budget and auditing committee is expected to do its duty when asked to approve extravagant auto bills.

The municipal hats will prove a life saver in the hot weather.

Let everybody try to banish the fire-brand from Lowell.

A NEW BILLION DOLLAR INDUSTRY

Reports from authoritative sources in the motor truck industry indicate that motor truck manufacturers are not only doing a larger business than at any time since the war, but that the industry, as a whole, has attained a volume never before equalled.

The annual expenditure in this country this year for motor trucks and commercial cars will exceed a billion dollars. This total includes an expenditure of $250,000,000 for the 250,000 trucks of all sizes that are being manufactured this year and an expenditure of $750,000,000 for the maintenance and upkeep of the 1,050,000 trucks already in operation.

"Running four times as many hours, travelling twice as many miles, as the average automobile," says the June 15th issue of the Commercial Car Journal, "the average truck wears out and consumes about twice as much material of all kinds as the average passenger car."

"On the $1,000,000,000 automobile bill of the country, approximately $1,000,000,000, or nearly one-fourth, is spent on the maintenance and purchase of commercial cars and trucks, the use of which is increasing at a greater rate today than is the passenger car."

About 250,000 commercial cars will be built in 1922. The total sales value of these trucks will approximate $250,000,000, or nearly one-quarter of estimated total sales in the motor truck field.

"Gasoline, tires and lubricating oil are the principal items to be added under the head of operating supplies."

"Between 1,100,000,000 gallons and 1,200,000,000 gallons of gasoline are annually used for motor truck operation. At an average of twenty-two cents per gallon, the gasoline bill will total $250,000,000."

"Nearly 5,000,000 tires will be required this year for commercial cars. These will cost approximately $175,000,000."

"About 75,000,000 gallons of lubricating oil at fifty cents per gallon will bring the bill for commercial car lubrication to $37,500,000."

"Sales of truck equipment will consist principally of special bodies, wheels, hoists, winches, cushions, etc. About 200,000 special jobs at an average of $300 apiece will be required this year. Other truck equipment, costing about $15,000,000, will bring this total of equipment sales up to approximately $75,000,000."

"Replacement parts constitute an increasingly important car field. Sales of such parts in 1922 will total $75,000,000."

"Labor for service and repairs is figured at about $140 per truck per year, which brings the total for over 1,050,000 trucks to about $150,000,000."

"It will be seen, then, that the motor truck industry, which totals sales in all branches of the commercial car industry will be well in excess of one billion dollars for the current calendar year."

SEEN AND HEARD

If we were Dempsey, we would be fighting all the time.

Arthur says he found out at city hall that a success is a man who climbs while the failure is waiting on broken-down elevators.

Muriel Rebelled
"Mummy," said Muriel, indignantly, "did you hear what auntie said to me? 'Yes, dear,' was the reply. 'Well, mummy,' said the child rebelliously, 'I'm not going to be brought up by another woman.'"

A Thought
If men would believe that they are in process of creation, and consent to let the Maker handle them as the potter his clay, yielding themselves in resonant motion and submissive, hopeful action with the turning of His wheel, they would be long able to welcome every pressure of His hand upon them. Even when it were felt in pain.—George MacDonald.

Apples and Books

G. B. Burghin, who has written over 60 novels and has just produced his second book of personal memoirs, tells of a popular novelist of whom the public wearies. He retired to the country to grow apples, and then he wrote his best book. At his wife's suggestion he sent it to a publisher under another name. The book was a great success. The author wrote other successes and the secret has been kept to this day, while the public marvels at the wisdom of the "young author."

What's the Use

A scenario writer experienced great difficulty in getting his plots accepted. As a rule, they were not interesting enough. At last he managed to persuade a weary producer to listen to the synopsis of his latest play. "Imagine," he began, "midnight, all silent as the grave. Two burglars force open library windows, and eventually complete operations on the books. The books strike one." "Which one?" yawned the producer.

Student Too Fresh

The professor of mathematics prepared to set out on a short journey on horseback. He was an absent-minded person, and while saddling the animal he was thinking out an intricate problem. Some students stood near and watched him abstractedly place the saddle on his partner before. "You are putting the wrong end of your saddle foremost," "Young man," replied the professor tartly, "you are entirely too smart. How do you know it is wrong when I have not yet told you in which direction I am going?"

Today's Word

Today's word is hale. It's pronounced like "hall," a word, however, to which it is otherwise entirely unrelated, being an older form of "hail," for which it is practically an exact equivalent. It means—to hail, to pull or draw with force, to drag, hence, to compel to go along. It comes from "haler," of German or Scandinavian origin, and is akin to Anglo-Saxon, "gehollan," to acquire or get; to Danish, "halen," to fetch, pull or drag; to Old High German, "halan," to "swallow," "eat," and perhaps to Latin, "halare," to call or summons. It's used like this—"The sailors haled at the ropes," or, more commonly in news English of the day, "Various attempts have been made to hale the Russian diplomat in this country, before a congressional committee."

Major Breches

A well-born, but impecunious colonel owed a considerable sum to his tailor. The latter, who had a large and flourishing business, was very ambitious and was getting into a good social circle. He therefore suggested to the colonel that in lieu of paying his debt he should introduce him and his wife to his friends. In the end the colonel agreed, and not long afterward the tailor received an invitation to dine. In the full glare of perfect floodlighting the colonel came to recognize him, so as he shook hands he said, very quietly: "Pardon me, my dear sir, I quite forget your name." "Quite likely," said the other equally quietly, but in a sneering tone, "but I remind your breeches." "Ah, yes," said the colonel, with a smile; then, turning to his wife, he said: "My dear, allow me to introduce Major Breches."

Kismet

I draw the bolt and sweep the hearth And bake a loaf or two; I eat the kettle on to sing, The while I wait for you.

I tend the fire with patient hands, And dink comes whispering sweet; The silver grasses in the road Dance, beckoning my feet;

And O the white moon rises so high; And my own supple star Is calling calling calling me To take the trail afar!

I draw the bolt and make the loaf, And bid the white moon ride; For your love calls the poet of me And may not be denied!

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Register of Deeds William C. Purcell reports a very large business for the month of May. From January of this year there had been a decline in business, but May seems to have jumped away into the front, some thirteen hundred deeds having been recorded. Whether this will continue remains to be seen, but it does show that the real estate market is good and that there are ready buyers. Civil court presided over by Justice Frederick Lawton came back to the court house on Monday, but adjourned yesterday to resume on the 19th. In the meantime the registry of deeds will be the only busy office at the court house and indeed it is a very interesting one to enter. One is impressed by the courteous treatment by Register Purcell and his employees, the excellence of their work and their business-like manner of conducting the affairs of the office. The local registry is one of the most important offices in the county as it executes, keeps and preserves the record title to all pieces of real estate in the county; and I dare say that the local registry of deeds as conducted by Register Purcell ranks as one of the best in the commonwealth.

The Careful Crossing campaign, which started June 1 and will continue through the summer until September 1, should provide deep food for thought for Lowell motorists. According to recently published statistics, there are 7000 motor vehicles in this city, a tremendous number in proportion to the population. I don't think it is exaggerating to say that every Sunday sees at least 5000 of these cars on the road. When we take into consideration that we are but a small part of the country and that there are countless other cars from surrounding territories, we can easily realize that danger is always imminent. The speed maniac, who delights in driving immoderately, will surely meet his Waterloo some day when he least expects it. The present campaign was inaugurated principally for the purpose of urging drivers to use every means possible for averting accidents at railroad crossings. In the past, the fault has been generally traced to the operator of the machine who failed to "stop, look and listen" when approaching the deadly crossings. Wild joy rides usually culminate in disaster, so that prospective joy seekers will do well to keep a watch ahead, especially where railroad tracks cross the thoroughfares.

The young men who so ably rescued the horses of the John P. Quinn Co. at the recent fire in their coal yards, are deserving of some credit for their foresight and heroic work. The fire had gained such headway that it was feared a rescue was impossible. Sensing the inability of the livestock to extricate themselves from their perilous positions, the four young men unhesitatingly entered the stables and loosed the excited animals from their stalls. If it had not been for their quick action, the horses would in all probability have perished.

Considerable criticism has been heard recently of the policy employed by some police officers of sending boys who commit misdemeanors, such as riding bicycles on sidewalks, etc., to the police station in the police patrol. The question is asked by some of the indignant parents if such drastic action is feasible. The spectacle of grabbing a boy by the collar and taking him to a box to await the arrival of the patrol, with many curious people standing by, and thus treating him the same as a serious offender, is in the opinion of many unwarranted. All boys are liable to make mistakes, and if they violate laws, naturally they must expect punishment, but to cast such a stigma as a "ride in black" on a youth's name, when a summons to court would prove just as effective, seems to be the wrong method and one that an officer of good judgment would not care to adopt where the offense is nothing more serious than riding a bicycle on the common, something that has gone unchecked for years.

The radio is daily giving evidence of its permanent establishment in the hearts of a vast many Lowell people, who have become fascinated with the idea of receiving and transmitting messages through the medium of this wonderful discovery. The young and old of both sexes have become attentive "listeners in" to high class concerts, speeches, etc., and through unfamiliar with the many peculiarities of the radio outfit, have come to recognize it as a very amusing and entertaining vehicle. The more advanced pupils of the game find the work both instructing and interesting as well as a very valuable aid in whiling away their spare hours. If things continue as at present, it looks as though the phonograph will soon be relegated to the background, as its entertaining qualities are concerned.

ANNUAL MUSICAL BY

NOTRE DAME PUPILS

The annual musical by the pupils of Notre Dame academy was held yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large and attentive audience of parents and friends. The program consisted of some very difficult presentations flawlessly rendered by the young pupils, clearly showing the result of intensive training and much diligent practice.

The program opened with an introduction by the orchestra entitled "The Queen of Sheba," followed by "The Little Girls," "Come Ye Fairies," chorus; "The Last Rose of Summer," harp solo, Miss Estelle Coffey; "Polka de la Reine," The Misses Irene Burns, Etheldrida McKenna, Juliette Marin, and Mildred Pare; "Soprano Solo," Miss Agnes Nolin; "The Swan," semi-chorus, Misses Marguerite Bourgeois, Gertrude Regan, Margaret Cahill, Juliette Marin; Concerto in E Flat," Miss Marguerite Bourgeois and Miss Agnes Nolin; "Marin," chorus; "Liebesfreud," orchestra.

The accompanists were the Misses Ellen Dwyer, Etheldrida McKenna, Claire Leard, Elinor Saunders and Gertrude White.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, a silver medal for proficiency on the violin was awarded to Miss Marguerite Bourgeois. For excellence in piano music, testimonials were granted Etheldrida McKenna, Mildred Pare, Elinor Saunders and Gertrude White.

FRIVOLOUS AFFAIR

An antique writing desk, rejuvenated for a modern miss, is a frivolous looking affair that shuts up like a box. It is so low that one sits before it on a cushion. Needless to say, this is not the desk for a busy woman.

Men Leaving Newfoundland for N. E.

ST. JOHN'S, N. E., June 10.—Government and press of Newfoundland express alarm at the heavy emigration of young men from the colony to New England and Canada. This summer, transportation lines report, the rush of emigrants is unprecedented. Practically every settlement in Newfoundland has lost its quota of young men this season reports received here say.

PROMENADE AND DANCING PARTY

A crowd of nearly 400 young people attended the annual June promenade and dancing party of the St. Columba's guild, held in the Pawtucket boat-house last night. As part of the entertainment songs were sung by Miss Alma Place and dances given by Miss Cecelia Crowe. The dance numbers were: skirt dance, Rita Carey; jazz dance, Emma Sheehan; butterfly dance, Virginia Lavallo; tango, Lorraine Montmarquet. Following the entertainment dancing was enjoyed until 12 o'clock. At intermission refreshments were served by the committee under the direction of Mrs. Patrick Brown. Those on the executive committee included: Etta Blessing, Frank Shea, John Murphy, Walter Shen, Benjamin Murray and Ralph Doran.

LOWELL GRADUATE

AT THE M. A. C.

The commencement exercises for the two year course in practical agriculture at the Massachusetts Agricultural college will be held June 15 to 19. This is the third class to be graduated from the course that was organized on the recommendation of the Massachusetts legislature. Eighty-three students will complete the course in June. Among the graduates are Mr. Victor Cluff of Lowell and Miss Constance Jacobson of Groton.

PLEASANT OUTING

A jolly outdoor party for the young people of the Senior Endeavor society of the Chelmsford Centre Congregational church was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Harold Boyd on Golden Cove road. The affair was largely attended and provided very enjoyable. Games were played and supper was served on the green. Miss Catherine Atwood had charge of arrangements and she was assisted by Mrs. R. T. Boyd and other members of the society.

SHOE STORE RELOCATED

Traveler Co. in New Location Offers Features for Discriminating Buyers

After ten years of service to the buying public, in which time it is claimed that every customer has been satisfied in every respect, the Traveler Shoe Store, formerly located in the Bradley block, opened its new store at 55 Central street this morning. The new store is larger and better equipped in every way. Nearly 60 more customers may be served at one time than in the old location, where only a double row of seats could be placed. In the new store another row may be added. Also, there is more shelf room and a larger stock can be carried, giving a wider range of values and styles.

During the day models from Boston and New York, charming young ladies, all of them, displayed the high Russian boots which are finding such favor in the larger cities at the present time. A large supply of these boots is on hand, in sizes and shapes to fit everyone. This exhibit proved one of the day's greatest attractions. Everyone who purchased a pair of shoes at the new store today was given a pair of milk hose as a special reminder of the occasion. Souvenirs also were distributed to the children on the street. The Traveler Shoe Store specializes in moderately priced shoes, and recently every pair of shoes in stock was marked at either $4 or $5. Not a higher price is charged for anything in the store. The store claims that its ability to offer low prices is due to the fact that the shoe comes directly from maker to wearer and that quality rather than price is the first consideration. The highest quality of records, probably long preceding his advent as a husbandman, man was a herdsman. BREAD AND MILK ARE BODY BUILDERS

At some time long before the dawn of history, man had discovered the value of the grains for food. Bread, in some form antedates recorded history. And before the beginning of records, probably long preceding his advent as a husbandman, man was a herdsman. The highest quality of records, probably long preceding his advent as a husbandman, man was a herdsman. The highest quality of records, probably long preceding his advent as a husbandman, man was a herdsman.

As bread has been called the staff of life, so may milk be termed the elixir of youth. It doubtless needs emphasis with many people that no meal is complete without its bread in some form and at least one glass of milk. In most of the Boston schools milk can be had by the children for their lunch. Vacation days are almost here. It is then up to the home to keep up the supply of this wall high perfect and complete food, milk. Bread and milk week is planned to emphasize this need. More than nine times out of ten, the undernourished, anemic child was produced by insufficient use of milk as food. The free use of milk in each day's food supply is the surest way to build sturdy boys and girls. For the between-meal lunch, bread and milk stand unrivalled. Their quick and easy digestibility leaves the digestive tract in readiness for the succeeding meal with the appetite unimpaired. In these hot days, the business man will be wise to turn to milk as the essential part of his noon lunch.

HOUSE REPORTS ON INCIDENT IS CLOSED

MUSCLE SHOALS

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Three separate reports setting forth recommendations for action by congress with respect to private development of the government's $196,000,000 power and nitrate projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala., were made to the house today by members of the military committee.

The task of making a final decision is admitted in each of the reports to be the duty of the full membership of the house at an early date, but recommendations to that end, submitted after four months of continuous consideration by the committee, differ in important respects as they are presented in the documents.

Acting Chairman McKenzie of Illinois, who drafted the majority report, says that the Ford proposal, which was accepted by the committee, is a "very serious consideration" and asks its acceptance by the house provided, however, that the Gorgas steam plant is not included among the projects to be disposed of at Muscle Shoals.

Concurrence in the majority report, except for the references made with respect to the Gorgas plant, is voiced in one of the minority opinions. It is by Representative Wright, democrat, Georgia.

The reports ask full compliance by the house with all provisions of the law proposed, including the Gorgas property, and points out the belief that if congress eliminates the Gorgas unit, it would defeat the Ford offer.

In the third report submitted by Representative Parker, republican, New Jersey, and signed by Representative Frothingham, republican, Massachusetts, the opinion is advanced to achieve the acceptance of Mr. Ford's offer unless it is modified in other sections than that dealing with Gorgas. In the event Mr. Ford declines to agree to the modifications proposed, the report would have the secretary of war lease the dams and nitrate plants "on such terms as will secure the completion of the dams" and would authorize him to "settle the value of the Gorgas plant and convey the same to the Alabama Power Co."

BRITISH SUFFERED NO LOSSES AT BELLEEK

LONDON, June 9. (By the Associated Press).—That the occupation of Belleek by the British forces was bloodless as far as British were concerned has been confirmed, but no reliable reports are available as to the losses of the Sinn Féin forces.

The Belleek fort was demolished by British artillery and if any of the Sinn Féin garrison were inside when the place was struck, they have escaped. No how they could have escaped. No how they could have escaped.

The plenary meeting today of the signatories of the Irish treaty was expected to deal mainly with a review of the work of the legal experts in examining the draft of the Irish constitution.

Satisfactory progress is understood to have been made in redrafting clauses to which the British cabinet objected.

PLAIN "BUCK" PRIVATES BECOMING SCARCE

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Examination of war department statistics today discloses that doughboys, just plain "buck private" of infantry, are becoming almost as scarce in the army as second lieutenants were a while back.

Today there are 47,837 men in the foot regiments and probably, it is said, not 20,000 of them are to be classified as plain "buck" privates. The impending additional reduction in the size of the army will show a further drop, officers say, and the military machine just a highly specialized skeleton, the bones of which are the officers, non-commissioned officers, specialized services and the machine gunners, signifiers and other key men in the infantry units with just a few humble "bucks" to give a sketchy suggestion of a real war time force.

REUNION OF AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The third annual reunion of the American field service, the volunteer organization of American ambulance and cannon drivers which distinguished itself in the world war, begins today in Plymouth, Mass., and will continue until Sunday.

Representative A. Platt Andrews of Massachusetts, who as inspector general of the service, organized and directed the 2400 Americans until the United States entered the war, has gone to attend the reunion. The field service veterans now maintain an organization and send each year about 25 American students to French universities for graduate study.

INDICTED FOR ATTEMPT TO BRIBE DRY OFFICER

BANGOR, Me., June 9.—Michael Driscoll of this city was indicted by the grand jury in the United States district court today on a charge of attempting to bribe Police P. J. Fox, federal prohibition officer, in that he offered the officer $1000 in return for information to be given as to when liquor raids were to be made.

Dr. A. Hagerthy, many times mayor of Bangor, was also included in the indictments, the charge against him being unlawful possession of 10 cases of intoxicating liquor. The jury reported 41 true bills, of which 22 were made public.

AGREEMENT AT LYNN

LYNN, June 9.—An agreement between the stockholders' local of the United Shoe Workers' union and the shoe manufacturers regarding a price list for various grades of work became effective today. While no announcement of the average scale of prices was made, it is understood that it represents some reduction, most of which falls on the unskilled grades and that the reduction to skilled workers is in cases greater than the 15 per cent bonus granted under the previous working agreement.

Italian Ambassador and Sec.

Hughes Conferred on Tariff Discussion

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The incident created by the public discussion of tariff questions by Ambassador Ricci of Italy, which brought criticism on the floor of the senate, has been definitely closed so far as the American government is concerned. The ambassador saw Secretary Hughes late yesterday in relation to the matter and it was learned authoritatively today that the conference ended the matter.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

NEW YORK, June 9.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in federal court today against McCall & Riley company, investment stock brokers, by three creditors who alleged liabilities of $100,000 and assets of $100,000. The firm holds membership in the Consolidated stock exchange.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Another new high record for the season was made today in the cotton market when October contracts touched 22 1/2, an advance of 64 points over yesterday's closing quotations.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 9.—A passenger who registered as J. L. Ferguson when the Colonial liner Concord left New York last evening was missing when the boat docked here this morning. His stateroom was found locked on the inside. It contained no baggage.

CINCINNATI, June 9.—Congress and state legislatures generally were recalled today as onomies of organized labor by a resolution, calling for a non-partisan political campaign this fall to elect candidates friendly to labor, which was adopted unanimously at the annual meeting of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

LAWYER CLEARS HIMSELF OF CONTEMPT CHARGE

NEW YORK, June 9.—Thomas L. Chadbourne, lawyer, who negotiated the Midvale-Inland-Republic Steel merger, has purged himself of the contempt charge declared against him yesterday by the Lockwood legislative committee when he refused to turn over data on four other steel companies originally contemplating entrance into the merger. Samuel Untermyer, committee counsel announced today.

Mr. Chadbourne cleared himself by turning over the desired data and Mr. Untermyer announced the committee now has all the information it desires concerning the merger.

TO ATTACK FORESTRY PESTS FROM AIR

BOSTON, June 9.—An attempt to attack forestry pests from the air will be made in New Hampshire next Monday by Captain Robert E. Kinney, flying an army plane. From a base to be established at Concord, it was announced today that the flier would circle Gunstock mountain and other territory in the vicinity of Lake Umbagog, dropping gas bombs as he goes. The gases are fatal to insect pests but are harmless to humans or to vegetation, it was said.

GIRL OF 12 SHOT AND KILLED FATHER

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 9.—Charged with shooting and killing her father, 12-year-old Mary Soriano, of Marianna, is being held in the juvenile detention home here.

According to the police, the girl admitted that she fired three shots, one of which entered the back of her father's head. She claimed the shooting followed a series of attacks on her mother and herself.

TWO FORMER SENATORS DEAD

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 9.—Two former state senators who served in the same year, 1909, died here today. Major Luzerne Ludington, eighth district, succumbed to a month's illness and Frank L. Stiles, 12th district, died from an operation performed Sunday. Major Ludington was long identified with the state's oyster industry.

HEAT CLOSES SCHOOLS

MAIDEN, June 9.—Mayor John V. Kimball today ordered the schools closed at noon because of the heat. Thermometer readings ranged from 90 to 95 degrees.

Bills will be received up to 11 A.M. Saturday, June 10 at the office of the City Engineer for the moving back of all buildings, sheds, etc., on the southerly side of First street on premises numbered 9, 11, 17, 21, and on premises east of 21. All as shown on plan in City Engineer's office. Plans and specifications may be secured at City Engineer's office.

PUTTING UP THE CIRCUS TENT
Little Tommy jumped out of bed this morning earlier than he has for many days. For the big event of summer time had come—Circus Day! In the wee small hours he watched the huge tents go up. More than 2000 strokes had to be driven but it only took men, working in gangs of eight, a couple of hours to get them all in.

OODLES OF RAW MEAT
How'd you like to be the butcher with a circus? This meat carver, on the job amid the circus wagons, cuts up hundreds of pounds of steaks and chops every day for the animals with the big show.

The Quality Never Changes

"L.F." Atwood's Medicine is the same safe, potent, reliable remedy for dyspepsia, loss of appetite, nausea, biliousness or sick-headache as it always has been for nearly seventy years. Read what Mr. T. Clement of Morrill, Maine, says about it: "It is a great medicine. We have used it for the last 25 years and it has done all that it claims to do. I am willing for you to publish this statement." You are taking no chances when you use the True "L.F." Medicine. All dealers have it. Large bottle 50 cents. "L.F." LOWELL DISTRICT COURT INTEREST ON MORTGAGE

More Liquor Cases on the Docket—Fines and Direct Sentences

A series of liquor cases, all of which were stubbornly fought, dragged to-day's district court session to beyond the noon hour. Added to the list of liquor cases, the insertion of a case involving a statutory offense, the trying of which lasted for nearly an hour, halted the usual swift disposition of other cases.

The feature case of the session was one in which George Blake, proprietor of a near-beer saloon at the corner of Tremont and Moody streets, and Philip H. Jacques, a clerk in the establishment, were charged with illegal keeping and found guilty. Blake, a second offender, was sentenced to three months to the house of correction in addition to a fine of $100, while Jacques was fined $150. Both men appealed through counsel.

Employe Makes "Buy"

Officers of the liquor squad testified that a police employe had made a "buy" at the saloon at which a subsequent search of the premises revealed a pint bottle of moonshine which was half full. Jacques admitted selling the stuff to the police employe and attempted to exonerate Blake of all knowledge of the sale or of the fact that liquor was on the premises. It was brought out by defense counsel that Blake was not on the premises at the time of the sale but that he entered the saloon at the same time as the raiding officers. The court said that he was not telling the truth. The man who made the purchase was not present in court, a fact which defense counsel brought out. The court said that he thought the man in question should have been brought into court, if such a thing were possible. Marie Macleod pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and was fined $100. She paid.

John F. Donohue, who conducts a near-beer saloon at 175 O'Brien street, was found guilty of illegal keeping and ordered discharged. In making this disposition, the court ruled there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a finding of guilty. According to the raiding officers' testimony, when they made their way into the saloon, a small quantity of what they considered whiskey was found in a bottle in the back room and in the back room and were alleged to have been drinking. Some liquid, found on the bar, was swept into a bottle and brought to the court. Officer Conroy testified that the stuff looked like whiskey, smelled like whiskey and tasted like whiskey. The liquid was sent away for analysis, but there was not enough of it to furnish a test.

Asked Officers to Swear

After the officers had testified, the judge turned to where they were seated and asked if any of them would swear that the stuff was whiskey. Officer Noye stood up and said that he would say that it was whiskey. When asked how he knew he said that it looked like whiskey, smelled like whiskey and tasted like whiskey. The court then asked Conroy if he would positively swear that the liquid was whiskey and the officer answered in the negative. The defendant was then discharged.

Another case which opened at 12 o'clock, but which was not completed, was continued to Monday had to do with a raid on a near-beer saloon at 491 Middlesex street. The place was raided on May 29 at 6:10 o'clock by a delegation from the liquor squad.

John Coyle, who was tried earlier in the week on a charge of disorderly conduct by accosting a woman, but whose case was continued until today, was discharged. Coyle was accused of accosting a woman, an employee of the Hamilton mill. The woman was walking to work with a man, a co-worker, when, according to the evidence, Coyle threatened the man with a beating. The woman then told Coyle to go along about his business. Following the trial the court said that he wished a little more time to consider the case and look into the law.

Admits 25th Theft

Martin Veselki, who pleaded guilty to being drunk on June 6 was today given a three months' sentence to the house of correction. Sentence was suspended for six months. During the trial last week, Martin's sister testified that he had taken $25 from her and that he also took a watch on another occasion. Martin denied both charges of larceny last week, but today admitted taking the money to his sister, through the probation officer, and to keep away from his sister as the court directed.

Thomas F. McCarthy was given a correction after pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness. Sentence was suspended for one year. The case was a holdover from June 1. Only the request of his landlady saved him from a direct sentence as the court said that under the circumstances he would give McCarthy as long a term as he was permitted for his case while drunk. The landlady complained that McCarthy got drunk, came home, and when she ordered him from the house, he turned on her and struck her several times. She exhibited a severely bruised arm. She also walked with a pronounced limp as the result of an injury received when she fell down while running to summon an officer.

Did Not Want to Press Case

The court wanted to know why an assault charge had not been brought and the landlady's counsel answered that his client did not wish to press the case. The man to jail, but would be satisfied with a suspended sentence.

Two O'Neil brothers, William F. and Timothy J., of Billerica, faced charges of drunkenness today, were placed on probation for six months. The young men, together with Leo Donnelly and John Heaney, both juveniles, were arrested by Officer William J. O'Brien of the Billerica police. The Donnelly boy was returned to the Lyman school, while the Heaney boy's case will come before the juvenile tribunal Friday. The O'Neil boys testified that the four of them had come to Lowell for an auto ride and were stopped on Middlesex street by a foreigner, who offered them whiskey for $1.20 per pint. The court pressed the young men in an attempt to find out more about the sale, but the boys were unable to give the desired information.

MASS NOTICE

FITZGERALD—There will be a month's mind high mass of requiem at St. Peter's church at 8 o'clock Monday morning for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald.

Directors of Local Greek Community Start Drive to Raise Money

A drive to raise $15,000 in order to prevent the Five Cent Savings bank from foreclosing its mortgage and selling the community real estate at auction, was started last evening by the new board of directors of the local Greek community, headed by President Apostolos Johnson. The movement was launched at a mass meeting held in the lower part of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street and so enthusiastically were some of those present that they even donated jewelry, photographs and other things in an endeavor to swell the fund. During the meeting $2200 was collected in cash and the articles donated towards the drive were valued at about $800, making a grand total of $3,000.

Another mass meeting will be held tomorrow morning at the church at the close of the regular service and at that time a committee will be appointed to visit all the business places and homes of the district and President Apostolos Johnson expects that before the middle of next week the directors will have attained their goal. A week from tomorrow it is expected that Bishop Germanos of New York will come to this city to help stimulate the drive if it is not over by then.

The debt of the community to the Five Cent Savings bank is a little over $70,000, on which considerable interest is due. The community also owes taxes and water bills for two years, it is said, and in addition the sum of $15,000 to the Lowell Trust Co. It is being planned to raise enough money through public donations in the community to pay the interests at the Five Cent Savings bank in order to prevent the foreclosure of the mortgage and later to issue bonds to the amount of about $35,000 to members of the community in order to wipe out the bank's mortgages altogether.

A prominent member of the community and a former president stated this morning that as soon as the bank matter is straightened out, an endeavor will be made to amend the by-laws of the community by which no one will be authorized to sell any of the community's real estate or to purchase any new real estate for a period of five years and after that time all purchases or sales will be done only after a general vote of the community members. The chairman, in addition to the church, the Holy Trinity, at 121 North street, owns a block of dwelling houses in Worthen and Dummer streets, the monthly receipts for which are approximately $500.

President Johnson failed in his endeavor to bring the two committees together last Thursday night, but it is said he will try to attempt it again. The directors of the Holy Trinity community and the officers of the Assumption community met in the school hall in Worthen street to talk over the proposition of the succeeding faction returning to the old community, but the conference did not result in anything, for the members of the Assumption community are now negotiating for the purchase of a building in Common street, which will be converted into a church and they feel that they can best conduct their own business themselves. It is said they would have returned if certain concessions had been granted them, but as it matters stand as during the past few months.

FUNERALS

CHRYST—The funeral of Patrick J. Chryst took place this morning from the home of his sister, Mrs. Patrick B. Wallace, 78 Whipple street, at 8 o'clock and was largely attended by many sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral proceeded to the Sacred Heart church, where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass was celebrated by Rev. Francis X. McGinnis, O.M.I. The funeral choir under the direction of Mr. John Kelly, sang the Gregorian chant. Mr. Kelly presided at the organ. There was a profusion of beautiful floral offerings to testify the high esteem in which the deceased was held, as well as many spiritual bouquets. The casket was borne by the following bearers: Messrs. Patrick Tobin, Joseph McGinnis, William Sotter, William Davine and John Mooney. Burial was in the family vault in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read at the grave by Rev. Fr. McGinnis, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Connell & Fay.

TIERNY—The funeral of Patrick H. Tierny took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his late home, 225 Westford street, and was attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Margaret's church, where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass was celebrated by Rev. William P. Drannan. The choir sang the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Miss Katherine V. Hennessey and Cornelius Callahan. Prof. Louis Guilbault presided at the organ. There were many floral tributes and a large number of spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Messrs. Patrick Shingue, John Drury, Michael Kelley, Dr. Thomas Drury, Michael Kelley and Frank Trudis. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Drannan. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers St. H. McDonough Sons.

RICHARDSON—The funeral services of Charles N. Richardson were held yesterday afternoon at the Catholic home, 92 Rolle street, under the direction of Rev. Fr. Fisher, D.D., pastor of the First Universalist church, officiated. The floral tributes were numerous. The bearers were relatives. The body was placed in the family tomb at Fairview cemetery, Westford, where the committal services were read by Rev. Fr. Fisher. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers William H. Saunders.

INCREASE IN THE LOCAL DEATH RATE

Following a week that produced one of the lowest death rates since the middle of last year, the city's mortality increased somewhat during the week ending today. Twenty-five deaths were reported to the board of health this week, against 17 last week and 35 for the week just preceding. There were nine deaths under five years this week and five under one year.

Infectious diseases reported this week were: Diphtheria four, scarlet fever five, measles five, spinal meningitis one, and tuberculosis three.

UNIQUE BATTLE OF MUSIC AT KASINO

A battle of music will be staged at the Kasino next Thursday evening with an electrical magnavox broadcast, accompanied by a radio orchestra. The radio orchestra, consisting of the Kasino orchestra, will be manipulated by its inventor, Joseph Z. McCrann, of 300 Merrimack street. Tonight Mr. McCrann, accompanied by James E. Donnelly and Mrs. Alice Donnelly McLoughlin, will visit the broadcasting station of the American Radio and Research company, at Bedford Hills. Mr. Donnelly will sing several of his well known selections, and his sister, Mrs. Alice Donnelly McLoughlin, will accompany Mr. McCrann in "Sunny Tennessee," "Why Dear?" and "Spring Song." These two attractions should prove of great interest to the public, as Mr. McCrann's invention, which has been proven practical and successful, has not been known of by many up to the present time, and is something altogether unique in the radio line.

It is not unlike any other musical instrument in the world. It doesn't resemble in appearance a violin or anything else. In fact, it doesn't look any more like an instrument to produce music than does a monkey wrench or a vacuum cleaner. Yet when McCrann strums up on the lone string and lets out with the bow it gives out the sweetest music imaginable.

SALVATION ARMY FUND GROWING

The Salvation Army home relief fund is nearing the $8000 mark, with the money coming in gradually, it is rapidly growing. In the last report several hundred dollars have been added to the gross sum, although only two large contributions have been received. The Gagnon company has turned over $232 and Hon. James B. Casey and the employees of the Ideal Comb factory, all the rest of the company has been raised by house to house subscriptions by the ladies of the Salvation Army.

LOCAL ATTORNEY'S UNUSUAL CLIENT

About 7:30 o'clock last evening while Lawyer Frank J. Garvey sat in his new offices in the Appleton Bank building poring over dusty tomes of Blackstone, delving into the labyrinthian phases of the old common law he was disturbed by a whirling sound which came through his window, and upon looking up, to his astonishment he saw perched upon one of his cabinets a fair sized pigeon, which stared at him unblinkingly, but unlike "The Raven" no sound came from it. The aerial client which made its entry so unceremoniously seemed quite at home and noted as one of its kind might be expected to do. The feathered bird seemed quite tame and allowed itself to be picked up without ruffling a feather. As the bird had a circlet of metal on its leg bearing an inscription, and as it possessed rare beauty, Squire Garvey concluded that his visitor was not of the ordinary type. Phoning to the police station he was asked to care for his guest and put him up for the night.

With ingenuity equal to that of Mr. and Mrs. Sutter of "Adam and Eve" fame, the resourceful attorney improvised a cage out of a wire waste paper basket, using an ink well for a water container for the bird. A newly purchased restaurant yielded some crackers and peanuts for the bird's sustenance and from all reports the winged sojourner passed a most comfortable night.

This morning Illumine Agent C. F. Richardson called for the migratory creature and informed Mr. Garvey that he had been the host to a Belgian war pigeon of the carrier type, belonging to the United States government. Commenting upon the incident, Mr. Garvey said: "I can say with literal truth that I had a 'bird' of a client last evening."

OLD FIRE HORSE DROPPED DEAD

One of the pair of black horses attached to Horse 10 in Pawtucketville dropped dead yesterday afternoon while that company was working down streets in the neighborhood of the Lowell General Hospital. The animal apparently was in sound health, although he has been in the fire department for more than 20 years. With his running mate he was a familiar horse in the depot yard, attached to the old protective when that company was at the Warren street house. When the protective was motorized in 1909 he was transferred to Horse 13 and later when that company was motorized he was shifted to the Pawtucketville house.

Lightning Strikes 13th Time—Boy Killed

ELMHURST, N. Y., June 10.—Lightning striking for the thirteenth time in as many years on the old colored church property in Horshoe just north of this city, claimed another victim today. Newton Edge, 12 years old, was instantly killed while playing baseball on the plot.

JOHN M. FARRELL Auctioneer

OFFICE, 102 MARKET ST., LOWELL, MASS.

Real Estate at Public Auction

SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1922, AT 3 P. M., AT 43 VARNUM AVE., LOWELL, MASS.

I shall sell at public auction the very desirable residential piece of real estate consisting of a 3-story slate-roofed house. The house has 10 large square rooms and 31,000 square feet of land, more or less.

First floor has reception hall, parlor, living room, dining room, kitchen, pantry and back hall. Sitting room has fireplace, dining room has china cabinet in and inlaid hardwood floors, kitchen has tile, porcelain sink, hardwood floors, plenty of closets. The house has electric lights and gas and is heated by steam.

Second floor has 3 large sleeping rooms, large hall, modern bath room with open plumbing, and a large storage room on top floor.

This house is one of the best built houses in Lowell. It has a high posted, well lighted cellar with bulkhead, has bay windows and piazzas on front and side. There is a large garage with storage for 3 cars; also a horse house.

The house sets back on the lot and has a good lawn in front. There are shade trees, concrete walks and granite steps. There are apple trees, pear trees and cherry trees and land for a good sized garden. Electric cars pass the house. It is near church, school and stores. When has opportunity to purchase at your own price a home of this kind so near the city with every improvement and the benefit of the open country been offered before? A more healthful location would be hard to find.

Also sold an electric washing machine, electric mangle, leather upholstered divan and some other furniture. You are invited to look at property over any day before the sale.

Terms of sale—$500 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer as soon as the property is sold. Other terms at sale.

JOHN M. FARRELL, in charge.

$750,000 Loss Caused by Fire in Business District of Woonsocket, R. I.

Griffith and Lloyd George Confer After Meeting of British Signatories of the Anglo-Irish Treaty

WOONSOCKET, R. I., June 10.—Loss estimated at about three-quarters of a million dollars was caused by a fire that destroyed two business blocks and damaged two others in the center of the business district today. The Woonsocket Call Publishing Co. lost its plant and with an individual loss of $200,000, was probably the principal sufferer, but arranged to publish its newspaper as usual this afternoon from the office of the Pawtucket Times.

The Crowell building and the Buell building, both on Main street, were the structures destroyed. The Mullen building, in which the Strand theatre was situated, and the Buckland building, in the vicinity of Market square, were less seriously damaged.

The fire was eventually controlled with the assistance of apparatus that came from Worcester, Mass., Providence and Central Falls. When the water supply appeared to be running short the engines pumped water from the Blackstone river.

Six firemen injured

Six firemen were injured when the walls of the Crowell building collapsed. Their escape from death was considered remarkable. Two required hospital treatment but two others were able to return after having their injuries dressed.

The fire started in the Crowell building, spread quickly to the Buell building, in which the newspaper office was situated, attacked the Buckland building from the rear, and gained a brief foothold in the Mullen building.

In the Crowell building the principal firms burned out were James J. Wood, remnants; Warden's sample shop; Flat Shoe store; the Woonsocket Commercial school; Morris Plan bank and Ellis Hall.

In the Buell building, the Woonsocket Call plant; the New England Coal Co., and Charles E. Cook, a printer, were the principal occupants. A. S. Cook & Co., furniture dealers, and the Ray State Furniture Co. suffered the principal losses in the Buckland building. The Mullen Furniture Co. sustained loss to its sales rooms and stocks in its building.

Want Special Appropriation of $23,500 for Repairs on Public Buildings

If recommendations of Councilor Edward M. Appleton, chairman of the public buildings committee, are followed out, the mayor will be asked to approve a special appropriation for the building department amounting to $23,500, for necessary repairs at the high school and a number of elementary schools in the city and at the police station.

Unless a special appropriation is voted, the work cannot be done this year out of the money available in the buildings department and, according to Councilor Appleton, repairs are seriously needed in many of the buildings.

In the old part of the high school, $10,000 worth of repairs are necessary, including cementing the floors, repainting the walls, and repairing the roof and plaster, renewing stair treads and other minor work.

After a tour of inspection by the committee on public buildings, Chairman Appleton was authorized to submit recommendations covering needed repairs. These recommendations also include removing the present dry closet systems from the Moody and Oaklands schools, at a cost of $8500, and provide for new gutters and conductors at the Worthen street, Edson, High street, Green, Carter street, Lincoln and Colburn primary schools, and also at the police station.

Early next week Councilor Appleton will confer with the city solicitor and city auditor on the matter of an appropriation to cover the work recommended and some action probably will be taken at the next meeting of the council.

Just what the mayor's attitude will be is problematical, for he has stated on several occasions that he does not favor supplementary budgets, but unless the money is secured in this manner, there is no possibility of the work being done this year and in the mind of the committee, it is of real necessity.

GOLDEN JUBILEE OBSERVANCE AT IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHURCH TOMORROW

Cardinal O'Connell Will Attend Golden Jubilee of Parish and Silver Jubilee of Very Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I.—Special Musical Program

Two events of great significance to the members of the Immaculate Conception parish will be observed at the 11 o'clock mass tomorrow, when the official celebration of the golden jubilee of the immaculate conception church and the silver anniversary of its pastor, Very Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I., will take place. It is expected that there will be an overflow congregation at this great double observance, and special preparations have been made to overcome all difficulties in this direction.

His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell and priests from other churches in Lowell and surrounding towns will be on hand to witness the ceremony, which will be observed.

MANCHESTER TEXTILE STRIKER HERE ON VISIT ENDS LIFE BY SUICIDE AT HOME OF HIS BROTHER

Thomas Tomasik, Despondent Over Lack of Work, Inhales Illuminating Gas at House in First Street—Came to Lowell Last Night to Visit Relatives

Thomas Tomasik, aged 38 years, of Manchester, N. H., committed suicide this morning by inhaling illuminating gas at the home of his brother, Stanislaus Tomasik, rear of 94 First street, this city. He had come here for a visit last night and it is believed that he became despondent because he had been out of work for several months and had a wife and three children to support. He was a textile worker, on strike at the New Hampshire city.

Tomasik arrived in this city early last evening and went directly to the home of his brother. When he retired for the night he seemed to be in good spirits.

This morning at 7 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Stanislaus Tomasik left their home for work and when they returned at noon they were unable to open the kitchen door, which had been locked from the inside. They finally broke through the door and then detected an odor of gas, which they followed to a bedroom in the rear of the house. There they found Tomasik lying in bed, half clothed. By his side was a small rubber tube, one end of which was attached to the gas fixture in the wall and gas was escaping freely.

The windows of the room were thrown wide open and a hurried call for the ambulance was sent in, but when the ambulance doctor arrived he found life extinct and declared the man had been dead several hours.

Tomasik was employed in one of the Manchester, N. H., mills, but had been out of work since the strike was declared there some three months ago. His home at 18 Orange street.

The body was viewed by Medical Examiner J. D. Martin.

TO QUESTION WARD'S FATHER

Deputies Are Searching for Father and Brother of Walter S. Ward

Officials Want to Learn How Much Ward Money Paid to Blackmailers

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 10.—Deputies from Sheriff Werner's office today were searching for George S. Ward and Ralph D. Ward, father and brother of Walter S. Ward, confessed slayer of Clarence Peters.

Subpoenas for Ward's father and brother were issued but they had left the elder Ward's home in Spuyten Duyvil a few hours before the searchers appeared.

The authorities want to question the father of Walter S. Ward regarding the blackmail plot, said by his son to have caused the killing of Peters. The officials want to learn just how much Ward money has been paid the blackmailers and who made the demands.

REPRIEVE IS GRANTED

Rocco Scicchitani, Under Death Sentence, Given One More Month to Live

BOSTON, June 10.—The governor's council gave Rocco Scicchitani, under sentence of death for the murder of Patrolman Thomas J. Riley of Cambridge, another month to live, today, when J. T. Zottoli, attorney for the condemned, requested a reprieve in order to make a motion for a new trial.

Scicchitani has been confined in the death house at the Charlestown prison. His execution was set for next week.

In his plea before the governor and council Zottoli contended that the indictment had not been properly procured and that there was improper conduct on the part of the police with respect to a witness called by the defense during the trial.

Officer Riley was killed on Nov. 21, 1921. Testimony showed that he came upon Scicchitani and a group of friends who were noisy and disorderly, and ordered them to move on. Scicchitani refused and struggled with the policeman. During the fight, he pulled a revolver and fired, according to the evidence.

Governor Cox explained that the reprieve was granted because counsel for the condemned man satisfied the council he had new evidence to offer in the case. What that evidence was, the governor said, probably would be disclosed in due time.

THE CIRCUS BEAUTIFUL

Poor Weather, But a Great Show—Wonderful Day for the Kids

Circus came to town today. Two Bengal tigers broke away. Circus man, says he to me. "Someone's got to catch them cats, you see."

I saw them. Someone's got to catch them cats. Someone else, not me.

Today is circus day in Lowell—perhaps not the best sort of a circus day, atmospherically speaking—but nevertheless circus day in every sense of the word and holding its time honored appeal for both young and old.

The Salla-Floto circus, "the circus beautiful," embracing not only the usual run of circus features but including a portion at least of what used to be the 101 Wild West show, pulled into the city shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, on the spur track that runs in the rear of the old Fair grounds in Gorham street.

On the lot that has been the scene of so many of the city's most notable big tent events were raised in anticipation.

Anti-Pinchot G. O. P. Forces Win Victory

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—The regular organization forces of the republican party in Pennsylvania won a victory over the supporters of Gifford Pinchot, republican candidate for governor, today, when they elected W. Harry Baker of Harrisburg, chairman of the state committee. His opponent for the position was Gen. Ashler Miner of Wilkesbarre, a World war veteran.

Mr. Pinchot urged that the financiers should have the right to contribute to the party's finances. He suggested that Senator Pepper be chosen national committeeman to succeed the late Senator Penrose.

Senator Pepper spoke for party unity to bring about efficiency, not only within the party but in government.

Senator Pepper was later unanimously elected Pennsylvania's member of the republican national committee.

CUNNINGHAM RELEASED ON $2500 BAIL

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 10.—James J. Cunningham, held as a material witness in the Ward shooting mystery, was released in $2500 bail this afternoon. His lawyer, Maurice McCarthy, immediately sent Gov. Miller the following telegram:

"Any information in my possession relative to the Ward case is at your disposal. I will give you fullest co-operation in solving this alleged blackmailing plot."

Gov. Miller, before leaving New York for Albany this morning, was reported to have denied a report that he was contemplating naming a deputy attorney general to take the Ward case out of the hands of Westchester county authorities.

Walsh Threatens Congressional Probe

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, in a statement today said that a congressional investigation would be made and indictment of bituminous coal operators who have used the Hoover price fixing agreement to raise prices would be demanded, unless Secretary Hoover obtained reductions of prices on contract coal "in a few days."

The Massachusetts senator talked today with Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the senate labor committee, regarding the latter's conference last night with Secretary Hoover and announced that he would support Senator Borah in withholding action for a brief time to await results of the conference secretary's promised conferences with operators to obtain price reductions. Senator Walsh added that if Secretary Hoover did not prevent price increases, the committee would proceed with an investigation. If this disclosed that operators have under the Hoover agreement raised prices for contract coal, Senator Walsh said, the attorney general would be asked to indict such operators for conspiracy.

WIFE SHOT AND KILLED

Lietector Employed on Harry Wilkins Shows He Told True of Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—The sphygmomanometer or lietector was employed by the San Francisco police department yesterday on Harry Wilkins, whose wife was reported shot and killed here by an automobile hoodlump on the evening of May 30, while she was riding in the family car with her husband and their two children.

The test was said to have demonstrated that Wilkins was telling the truth.

The lietector is a "blood pressure machine."

Wilkins, who is not under detention, came to police headquarters and submitted to the test, which consisted of answering a series of questions in connection with the crime. After leading from his arm and heart indicated on a chart in the background that no nervous tension was recorded, according to John Larson, who invented the machine, and was present at the psychological inquisition.

MUSIC WEEK IN WASHINGTON AN EVENT OF GREAT SPLENDOR

Rumor That Tariff Will Go Over Till December Rife in Washington---Nearly 2000 Amendments Pending---Mr. Rogers Hit on Child Labor Law---Indian Divorce Ceremony in Court at Capitol

(Special to The Sun.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 10.—Following the splendid tribute to Lincoln at the dedication of the great temple down on the banks of the Potomac, came Music Week, which all Washington entered into with a zest seldom seen. Everything from patriotic songs by thousands of school children to magnificent sacred music by cathedral choirs brought from distant states was on the program. One of the incidents that showed the genuine affection in which President and Mrs. Harding hold little children came on Saturday, when the week was to have been brought to a close by a "Serenade to the President" sung by 300 small children specially drilled for the occasion, and at which their hearts were set. It was to have been given down by the great Lincoln Memorial, but at the last moment plans were upset by a tremendous thunder storm with torrents of rain. Then Mrs. Harding and the president opened the White House doors and in flooded the 300 drenched little kids and the program was carried out just as if nothing had happened. "We couldn't persuade the sun to shine," said the president to a score of more children who gathered round him. "But you've brought enough of sunshine into the White House to make up for it." Mrs. Harding gave the children flowers out of the great vases that flanked the East Room walls, and the children sang to their hearts' content and had a grand good time notwithstanding the heavy storm outside. Some one not long ago likened the genuine simple hospitality of the White House under the Harding administration to "Main Street," and the president is quoted as having laughed and replied he recorded it a great compliment. The fact is the President and Mrs. Harding are so well bred, well poised, and sure of themselves that they are not afraid to be true to themselves and their traditions and in cordial to their guests. But though Music Week was one of its own chosen purposes, Congress has sung quite a different tune. War songs have predominated, with Watson of Georgia, Canaway and Robinson of Arkansas leading the chorus lustily, if not melodiously. The only variation has been a shift of key from kind of "peniculous republican policies" of one sort to those of another, no matter in what key the tune was pitched. And the republicans joined loudly in the chorus of party discontent. McCumber, chairman of the finance committee came so near a personal clash with Watson of Georgia that only the intervention of senators sitting between those two men saved the day from something far more serious than a war of words. Senatorial rules and senatorial courtesy have been flung aside by men of both parties, whose nerves are on edge and who physically feel the strain of eleven hours daily sessions with the humidity running up to 96 degrees and the thermometer registering the same. It's been a very trying week from point of view and weather and Congress is showing the strain.

Talk of Tariff Going Over

There is still an overcurrent of talk to the effect that the tariff will go over to the December session on account of the impossibility of securing an agreement on the 2000 pending amendments to the bill as it came over from the senate. Senator Lodge, floor leader stoutly avers it will pass before adjournment. That the bonus will be brought up and passed in some form seems pretty well assured, but the rumor that the president will veto it, and will stand side by side with the Secretary of the Treasury Mellon against its present adoption in the proposed form, seems a foregone conclusion. The word has gone forth, with seeming authority, that President Harding will insist on the quick passage by Congress of a merchant marine and subsidy bill, and that if an adjournment is attempted without such action he will call them back this fall in extra session. Congress can fix its own time for adjournment and can adjourn without consent of the president, but the president has the constitutional power to summon them back immediately by calling an extra session whenever he thinks proper.

There is a rumor also that the tariff bill will be recommended to the finance committee and be born of its 2000 amendments and come back in more concise form in hope of stopping debate. Only one thing seems certain. The house has practically completed its work and will soon begin a series of three day recesses to continue till the senate catches up. Under the constitution the house cannot adjourn till the senate does, for more than three days at a time, except by consent of the senate. That consent will not be asked so three day recesses with no business of importance or requiring a quorum, will be the order of the day.

Child Labor Law

Congressman Rogers made a ten strike in the opinion of his colleagues when he secured from President Harding a statement that he would soon bring before the house in a special message the question of establishing a child labor law that would be effective in all states. Mr. Rogers personally visited the president and urged such a step, and the president replied he would take it under consideration. The following day Mr. Rogers received a letter from President Harding in which he stated that he had determined to take up the matter at a very early date and that he was in sympathy with the purposes of the Rogers bill, submitted within a year. Four years ago the supreme court declared the law passed by Congress regulating child labor was unconstitutional. Last year another child labor law was passed only to be declared unconstitutional by the court a few weeks ago. Mr. Rogers is convinced the only way to obtain a law that will be operative in all states and not run against an unconstitutional snag is to amend the constitution to cover the point. The president said to Mr. Rogers he believed the Rogers bill right in substance but perhaps would need modification before it received administrative endorsement. He did not intimate, so far as is known, just what line he proposed to advocate but that it will not follow the same general principle of the Rogers bill seems assured. On account of its great textile plants Massachusetts is especially interested in a uniform law regarding child labor, both on the ground of humanitarianism and industrial prosperity.

Indian Divorce, Scene in Court

An echo from Old Romany was heard in the courts here yesterday when the judge sat in silence and listened to Alex Clado issue a tribal divorce from his gypsy wife. It was a case of the eternal triangle and all three of the persons interested—in this case one man and two women—were in court. But before the presiding judge had much to say the knight of the spurs took the floor and told how he had been deserted by his young wife and insisted that the tribal customs in which he had been reared should govern the case. Then the big dark husky man, went through the formal ceremony of divorcing the girl wife, just as if he had been for away in the courts of the capital of the United States. In reply to questions by the judge, Clado said his wife "had divorced herself" when she strayed from her tent in Chicago some days ago. Under Romany rule she had been a tribal wife, just as he had been a tribal husband, and her boy baby who may some day become ruler of the tribe—but may remain the girl baby on whom so much store is not set. "Under the stars to the melody of the wedding song, did I take my Romany girl to my tent. Now she must be unwed as we of the open road do such things," said Clado with a rough dignity that was tremendously impressive. Then Clado proceeded to "unwed" her according to the tribal custom. The judge watched the ceremony with intense interest, when it was completed to the satisfaction of Clado, the judge again took a hand in the game and after admonition to the wife and the third section of the eternal triangle—another dark skinned gypsy, put them on probation.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON BIRDS

In connection with the children's department of the city library, a fine illustrated bird lecture, will be given on Saturday morning, June 17, at 10 o'clock. Prof. E. H. Forbush, the state ornithologist, author and lecturer, will be here with his large collection of colored slides. Prof. Forbush is widely known as an interesting speaker and the library is very fortunate in securing him for the program. The lecture will be free and all school children and their friends are especially invited to attend. It will be held in Memorial hall.

DO YOU SLEEP BADLY?

Some people lie awake for hours, vainly trying to get to sleep. Others wake up suddenly for no apparent cause and are unable to get to sleep again. Undernourished nerves are the most common cause of insomnia. A tonic for the nerves is needed, as is shown by the case of Mrs. C. H. Kinder of No. 1176 High street, Bath, Me.

"I was very nervous," says Mrs. Kinder, "and slight noises would give me such a start that I would be all of a tremble. I did not sleep well and had so much trouble getting to sleep that I often took a book to bed and read and read until I fell asleep. Sometimes I would wake up suddenly and have great difficulty in getting to sleep again. I took medicine for my nerves but nothing seemed to help me until I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a magazine. After a week's treatment I could see a change in myself. My nerves were more quiet. I kept on and my sleep became better. Then I recovered strength and had more energy. I am now in the morning feeling rested and refreshed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have helped me wonderfully and I am glad to recommend them to any who need a tonic for the nerves."

Quarter Century Ago

From the old Sun I learn that 25 years ago Senator Lodge was appealed to by many Massachusetts citizens to use his influence in hastening the passage of the tariff bill then before congress, as this statement from The Sun will show:

"A petition signed by many friends has been sent to Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge, United States senator, asking for action on the tariff bill, in which after a discussion of the business depression said:

"We believe that the proposed tariff legislation is imperatively needed and earnestly hope and believe that your best efforts will be directed to secure its early enactment."

It is a peculiar coincidence that today Senator Lodge is the man to whom the nation looks to hasten the passage of the tariff bill, which for good or ill has much to do with the business interests which wish to know the new conditions as soon as possible.

The "Shut" Club
In spite of the rain, the untried newspapermen of Lowell yesterday accepted the invitation of Supt. Morton of the Lowell, Lawrence & Haverhill railroad to an outing at Glen Forest. One of the most beautiful summer resorts in New England. The delegation, including publishers, editors, reporters and advertising men. Various amusements were enjoyed and a banquet was served at which the representatives of the various newspapers were called upon and responded in a jovial way. Among the principal speakers were John H. Harrington, ex-Senator Edward F. O'Sullivan of Lawrence and ex-Alderman Bruce.

Mr. Sternberg of the News was called upon to speak for the "Shut" club, of which he said he was president, financial secretary and board of directors, while the only other member is secretary, spiritual adviser, medical examiner, and committee on ways without means. Part of his remarks were played on the tin whistle.

The "Shut" club was made up of Ike Sternberg and the late James Hearn. They were very close friends. "Stern" was very witty and was something of a vocalist and in addition he played the tin whistle which he always carried with him. The "Shut" club is well remembered by the older members of the newspaper fraternity. After the News gave up the ghost, "Stern" entered the employ of the street railway company, where I believe, under the management of Mr. P. P. Sullivan, who brought him here from Washington. Sternberg died several years before the passing of his friend, Mr. Hearn. They were two first class newspapermen, but Mr. Hearn was by far the more accomplished as a writer.

High School Officers

Twenty-five years ago, the field day of the high school was held at the Fair grounds. From the old Sun, the following is taken relative to the prizes and list of officers:

"The first prize, a beautiful gold medal, was awarded to Corp. David of Company A, while the second prize, a silver medal, went to Sergt. Hadley of Company B."

"The roster of regimental officers was: Colonel James E. Monaghan; Lieutenant-colonel, Leslie Welner; regimental adjutant, Frank J. Libby; quartermaster, George Gardner; aid, Lieut. Martin Garo. Commissioned staff: Major L. P. Cook, B.S.C.; Capt. L. R. Thurlow, Company A, second battalion; Adjutant William H. Childs, A.H.S.M.B.; Lieut. J. J. Phalen, Company A, second battalion; C. F. Wilson, Company D, first battalion; T. J. O'Donnell, Company B, second battalion."

Wed 25 Years Ago

A very pretty wedding occurred last evening, (June 2), at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jewett, 18 French street, when their daughter, Miss Annette E. Jewett, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph H. Goss. The bride was given away by her father. Her maid was her sister, Miss Elizabeth Jewett, and the best man was Mr. Leonard J. Jewett, a brother of the bride.

"The marriage of Edward G. Bradley of Citronelle, Alaska, and Miss Frances Knowles, daughter of Mr. Jefferson Knowles, took place yesterday, (June 2), at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morse, 233 Price street. Rev. Charles T. Billings performing the ceremony."

"The marriage of Mr. Edward Martin of this city, and Lottie Maria Roworth, occurred Tuesday evening, (June 2), in the Tabernacle church, Salem, Rev. Dewitt S. Clark performing the ceremony."

A very happy nuptial event took place in North Chelmsford, Ind. over (June 2), when Patrick J. Malenphy, the popular assistant engineer at the power house, and Miss Julia H. Tynan were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Shaw, at St. John's parochial residence."

Life of Gov. Greenhalge

From the old Sun:
"A very handsome volume on the life of the late Governor Greenhalge has just been issued from the University Press, published by Roberts Brothers, Boston. It is a book of 168 pages, large octavo size, full cloth and neat typographically."

The author of the work is James E. Nesmith, whose close personal relations with Mr. Greenhalge enabled him to give to the public a large amount of personal and other matter which will be entirely new to the general reader. Mr. Nesmith has a beautiful home in Andover street in which, in WILL PARTY who took headed May 28, from table in rear of Sacred Heart church return with contents to 163 E. St. No questions asked.

AT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

With Secretary-Manager G. F. Wells attending the Rotarians' convention in California and Assistant Secretary Edward W. Gallagher taking a day's leave of absence to attend the meeting at Swampscott of the New England Association of Commercial Executives, the local chamber of commerce quarters are enjoying a period of comparative inactivity over the week end. Even W. E. Brown, deputy regional executive of the boy-scout movement was absent on business in another location, and the office was left in the hands of the lady clerks and the Salvation Army workers, who are using a section of the rooms during the drive that is now on.

London Looks for Settlement

next Monday, when the house of commons reassembles after its Whitstide recess.

The main questions which created difficulties when the draft of the Irish constitution was first submitted are now understood to have been settled satisfactorily, with the technical matters still under examination on a fair way to adjustment. A further meeting of the British signatories of the Anglo-Irish treaty is scheduled for today, and a conference with Arthur Griffith, the chief Irish delegate, possibly will follow.

The Ulster frontier trouble has been smoothed away, temporarily at least, and Michael Collins' speech in Dublin last night is taken here as an indication that the southern leaders are determined to avoid anything likely to keep the wound open. Nothing further has been heard from Collins' protest over the occupation of Pettigo by the military, and it is inferred that the British government has given assurance acceptable to Dublin.

The Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent understands that if it were arranged that the British troops would hold the border temporarily, replacing the Ulster special constables, all the Irish Republican army regulars would be withdrawn from that neighborhood. Such an arrangement, he says, is favored in the more important southern circles.

Sinn Feiners Attack House
BELFAST, June 10.—(By the Associated Press)—Sinn Feiners early today attacked a house in which a detachment of special constabulary was quartered. Their preparatory measures of extinguishing the street lamps aroused the suspicions of the guards, who awakened the sleeping constables.

A bomb was hurled through a skylight, but injured no one. This was followed by rapid revolver fire, which was likewise devoid of effect. Several incendiary fires were reported this morning.

750 Passengers Transferred From Liner

CHERBOURG, France, June 10.—(By the Associated Press)—In a thick fog out in the open sea, 750 of the White Star Liner Olympic's passengers for Cherbourg were transferred during the middle of the night from the steamer to tenders and landed at Cherbourg without mishap this morning. The Olympic entered a thick bank of "pea soup" fog, 20 miles out, making further progress shoreward hazardous. It was decided to put the passengers for Cherbourg on board the smaller craft, thus obviating the necessity of the Olympic actually entering the French port.

Observations of Mars Reach Climax

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., June 10.—Observations of the planet Mars, in progress at the Lowell Observatory here four months, will reach a climax tonight when Mars passes through a point in its orbit directly in line with the sun and the earth. On June 13 the planet will be closer to the earth by several million miles than at any time since 1009.

MRS. ALEXANDER BRADLEY'S FIVE-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER DANGEROUSLY ILL

Here is a little bit of true life put into a letter. Mrs. Alexander Bradley of Danbury, Conn., says: "After 14 long years trying different remedies I have at last found a good medicine—Dr. True's Elixir."

"I was nearly discouraged. I was giving the oldest girl something nearly every night, but now I keep a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir handy, and only give it occasionally. I have tried so many things but now as soon as I see signs of worms I give Dr. True's Elixir for quick relief."

"My son, 14 years of age, was always troubled with worms when small and Dr. True's was unknown to me then. I always have it on hand now, as I have another small child. They even ask for more. Now please print this letter so other anxious mothers may know the good results which follow Dr. True's Elixir for children suffering with worms and constipation, as I cannot recommend it too highly."

Symptoms to watch: Constipation, offensive breath, swollen upper

lip, deranged stomach, occasional pains, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, short, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, red points on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

A great deal of sickness comes from irregular bowels, a vital part of the body. At the first signs of constipation give Dr. True's Elixir—for it is the right kind—pleasant to take, with no griping or distressing after-effects.

A well-known New Yorker writes: "While visiting in historic old Plymouth, (Mass.) my family became acquainted with your Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. It does all you claim for it in aiding digestion and relieving insomnia and constipation. Please ship me six large size bottles, for mother is in need of it."—Wm. J. Ralph.

Nearly every grown-up as well as every child needs a laxative. Keep the bowels regular by using Dr. True's Elixir. 40c—60c—$1.20.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

"Deak" Dodge, president of the Memphis A.C., who has given lovers of boxing a most successful and entertaining season, has about decided to suspend his regular weekly meetings for a time. The hot weather of the past few weeks caused rather small crowds to turn out to see the fights, and Dodge's victorious career in the east, but he succeeded in scoring the first knockout ever registered against Pugsey.

During the suspension in activities the local promoter plans to keep in touch with the game and lineup a soldier of bouts for later dates.

Some very classy fighters were brought here during the past season and are free to a number of the ring battles. The Gardner-Boyle bouts, the Avila-Gould, the Morton-Gradwell, Morton-Hamlin, and the Brown-Darden-Woods were some of the encounters that he offered for the edification of the fans.

Dodge also had mutually good luck in the few substitutions he was forced to make. Frankie Britt was scheduled to fight Mike Castle here, but he failed to appear, and the match was called off because of a fractured leg. Newport Johnny Brown, an unknown, was rushed into the breach and he managed a rough enough victory by beating the unknown boy. Woods came to Lowell to fill in when Billy Carney failed to appear, and the Manchester crowd was won over by showing the way to Sailor Darden. Then Gene Delmont was booked to meet Puggy Morton. Gene begged off because of a bad cold, but when it was learned that he was in the hospital, Gene's father, Gus, was secured to fill in and he did so to the

Fashion Suggestions, Valuable Household Tips and Other News of Interest to Women

With or Without Sleeves —That's the Question

Sleeved or sleeveless? It's a question every woman must decide for herself after giving the subject the serious consideration it deserves. The difficulty is that the unprejudiced observer is likely to conclude, as always, that both sides are entirely in the right.

In that case there's nothing to do but to have two summer wraps—one with sleeves and one without. Both are fashionable.

Sleeves are interesting this season and one dislikes to do without them. They are made in odd shapes and trimmed with beads or embroidery quite beyond one's wildest imaginings.

On the other hand a cape without sleeves is an essentially romantic garment. It reminds one of Spanish cavaliers and dark-eyed villains and all that sort of thing. The choice, of course, is a matter of temperament.

WHITE AND GOLD
White satin and gold lure is a great combination seen in many forms on the latest fashion revelations. The gold for all white is second only to that for all black.

GOLD PENCIL
Tiny pencils of gold, enameled in blue or pink, are very acceptable as graduation gifts. Sometimes they are worn on a gold chain, but quite as often merely carried in the handbag.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out, and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me. I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as I should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and everyone tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." —Mrs. HERBERT LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

ORGANDIE
Organdie used to be considered the most approved material for the unsophisticated costume. Now we find organdie trimmed with metal embroidery and with exotic colors that have quite changed its character and made it a most sophisticated fabric.

FOR MIDSUMMER
Very straight, tailored looking frocks are being made up of line in bright colors. White braids or white organdie usually enters into the composition and adds the finishing touch.

SHEATH GOWNS
The sheath gown that received so much condemnation a few years ago threatens to come back. One Paris designer is showing sheath effects with a long, straight line and no belts. Other designers are bringing up the waistline to a more normal position.

PORCH FROCK
The porch frock has developed into a straight line frock, made up in bright colored fabrics, or printed designs, not too conservative in color. Usually they have round necks, short sleeves and elastic bands at the waist.

FEET OF NORMA CHANEY
The feet of Norma Chaney of Oklahoma City recently were awarded a prize as being the most beautiful pair in that city.

They are 3 1/4 inches long, and each ankle measures just 3 1/4 inches around. "Small feet are not necessarily perfect feet," said the chiropodist who examined all the contestants. "It is proportion that makes perfection."

The entrants were viewed at a public assemblage and Miss Chaney won the honors by several thousand majority.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT ROGERS HALL
Commencement week at Rogers Hall school begins tonight with the presentation of the play, "A Thousand Years Ago," written by Percy MacKaye. The cast is made up of 20 of the graduating class as follows: Misses Alice Chase, Barbara Andrus, Virginia Gittins, Minnie Perry, Althea Phelan, Beatrice Lennie, Marion Jutha, Mildred Collins, Ruth Clarke, Minny Woodbury, Ellen Cloutman, Isabel Marvin, Marjorie Zabriskie, Marjorie Downing, Starr Wyman, Grace MacDougall, Caroline Harris, Mary Harris, Katherine Weeks and Elizabeth Green.

The play will be given in the school gymnasium at 8 o'clock and the proceeds that accrue will go toward the school building fund.

On Sunday morning the graduates will go to St. Anne's church, where the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by Rev. Appleton Grams, the rector of the church. In the afternoon a musicale will be given at the school. On Monday the annual garden party will be held on the school grounds afternoon and evening.

The formal exercises of graduation will come on Tuesday morning with Rev. William H. van Allen of the Advent church, Boston, as the commencement speaker.

SAUSAGES FOR SUMMER MENUS
—Smoked Pork Sausage Always Good

While the use of pork during hot months is more or less taboo, sausage is very acceptable, from frankfurters to the delicately seasoned imported sausages. These sausages are delicious sandwich fillings or can be served sliced with salad as cold meat or lightly broiled and served with mayonnaise and lettuce on toast as a hot open sandwich.

Smoked pork sausage is always good in summer just as any smoked meat or fish.

LUNCHEON SAUSAGE
Put the small link sausage in frying pan. Pour over boiling water to half cover. Cover closely and simmer until water evaporates. Pick each sausage with a fork and fry to a delicate brown on all sides.

Drain on heavy paper. In meantime prepare fresh pineapple in fan-shaped slices. The slices should be not more than three-eighths of an inch thick.

Put the pineapple in the pan the sausage was cooked in, sprinkle with sugar and simmer over a slow fire till the fruit is tender. It will take 15 minutes.

The sausage was not very fat and a little butter. The sugar melts with the butter or sausage fat and caramelizes. Return sausage to the pan for the last five minutes of cooking to insure blending of the juices and perfect hotness.

Arrange sausage and pineapple on a hot platter and garnish with water-cress. Allow one glass of pineapple for each sausage. Canned pineapple may be used.

MATRIMONIAL
Mr. George C. Boynton and Miss Evelyn A. Lindsey were married June 6 at the parsonage of the Centralville M. E. church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Karl P. Meisler. The bride wore a white crepe de chine trimmed with fur and carried sweet peas. She was attended by Miss Nellie A. Lindsey, her sister, while the best man was Mr. C. M. Vialto of Chelmsford Centre. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home at 95 Billings street.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER
Friends of Miss Josephine Manning, who is to become the bride of Mr. Thomas Keefe next Wednesday evening, tendered her a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Lillian Scarlett, on Lakeview avenue, Dracut, last evening. Many entertaining features contributed to the enjoyment of those present, and Miss Manning received a great variety of presents. The donkey game, which proved one of the most popular events of the evening, resulted in Mrs. Thomas Coyne winning first prize, and Miss Peggy Chaney won the booty prize. A toast to the bride was given by her sister, Mrs. Leroy W. Dunfee. Miss Manning herself contributed several piano selections, and vocal specialties were given with a vim by Misses Kittie Burns and Josephine Reynolds. Misses Noreen Manning and William Scarlett were responsible for the success of the shower. At the end of the party at Miss Scarlett's residence the entire party left to escort Miss Manning home, and boarding a city-bound Lakeview car they continued their jollification into Merrimack square, whence they marched to the home of the bride-to-be in Broadway.

HENRY FORD'S WIFE IS A HOME WOMAN

Though she has risen to millions from comparative poverty, the wife of one of America's richest men never has become a social climber—she shuns society!

She is Mrs. Henry Ford. This is one of the few pictures of Mrs. Ford you will see, for she is rarely photographed.

Mrs. Ford is seldom identified with public or social life. In Dearborn, Mich., where she lives, she is associated with philanthropy and social betterment.

She is said to own a third interest in her husband's business, but she is decidedly a home woman.

In her dress and manner she is very quiet. She seldom wears any jewels except her wedding ring and, once in a while, a string of pearls.

She is fond of motoring and outdoor life, but her greatest interests are Henry Ford, her son Edsel, and Edsel's two babies, Henry and Edsel II.

RECITALS BY PUPILS OF ELLA REILLY TOYE

Two recitals were given yesterday by pupils of Ella Reilly Toye at her studio, 68 Vermont street. The first, by the younger pupils, was held at 4 o'clock, while the advanced class was heard at 7 o'clock in the evening. Assembling were Miss Margaret M. Maguire, soprano, and Miss Angela V. O'Brien and John Gilbride, violinists.

The pupils who took part in the recital were the following:

At 10 o'clock, the circus parade was ready to start. It left the Fair grounds and followed a route that included Gorham, Central, Merrimack, Dutton, Thorndike, Middlesex and Gorham streets. All along the way thousands of people watched it with interest and marvelled at its glittering beauty.

The Sells-Floto people claim the all-time record for the largest and most complete street parade equipment of any circus in the world—that is, a half mile longer than any other parade, they say—and Lowell is today the scene of the greatest show of its kind.

It required 15 minutes for the parade to pass a given point and the head of the column had long since disappeared around the corner of Dutton street before the end had passed Tower's corner.

Beautiful horses, of royal breeding, emblazoned carts carrying all sorts and stripes of animals and birds, bands, strings of camels and lines of elephants, with here and there a clown or two, were integral parts of the dazzling display. More of the circus today were ready to take the view than has been the custom with any other circus in recent years, at least. Monkeys chattered and leaped in one large cage, while birds of rare plumage were seen in the circus.

Although the motor car has forced the disappearance of the horse from the city streets to a large extent, the horse in the circus is still supreme, although it was evident today that the tractor has begun to make inroads on his domain.

In addition to the two shows to be given on the Fair grounds lot, two performances in miniature will be given at 1 and 4.30 p.m. for the children of St. Peter's and the French American orphanages. The circus management was only too willing to grant this request the moment it was made.

Now Is the Time To Pick Summer Clothes for Kiddies

The sand pile, the beach and the backyard govern styles for youngsters. That's why clothes for small boys and girls are plain—shunning turbulences—and of most durable materials.

For tiny girls there are straight little frocks of print, English dimity, gingham and chambray. Cretonne and black satine are also used and are likely to stand wear and tear.

Straight short overalls for boys, made of chambray and knaki cloth are suitable to all every-day events.

GOMPERS DENOUNCES U. S. COURT DECISION

CINCINNATI, June 10.—Protests of organized labor as voiced here yesterday, at preliminary for the national convention next week, of the American Federation of Labor, centered against the supreme court, the congress and state legislation in General.

Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, in addressing a club of business men, interpreted the supreme court decision in the celebrated Corcoran coal case as a negation of the right to strike, and declared that organized labor would appeal to congress for new legislation setting aside the decision.

In criticizing the supreme court, Mr. Gompers said that he expected to be "taken strictly to account" for his utterances, adding that "I do not run away from a fight."

"But, it has come to a pretty pass," he continued, "when an American citizen can no longer discuss and criticize the decision of the supreme court, or the president of the United States, or the United States senate or congress. Pray, of what flesh are the members of the supreme court that they are above criticism beyond that of the president of the United States?"

WILSON FOLLOWERS LAUD COOLIDGE

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Woodrow Wilson democracy lauded Vice-President Coolidge as "the first member of the present administration to have had the courage and fairness to speak of the existence of the league of nations in an unprejudiced way."

In a telegram sent him yesterday, "Congratulations," said the message, "on your reference to the league of nations in your speech of June 7, where you are quoted as saying: 'There is the league of nations which, whether successful or not, whatever imperfections may be contained within its terms, is at least an attempted expression of a noble aspiration for world association and understanding.'"

ANNUAL EXCURSION TO REVERE BEACH

At a recent meeting of members of Court St. Antoine, C.O.P., the following committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual excursion to Revere beach under the auspices of the court: Armand Beauchesse, Eugene Trudel, Joseph Goyette and Oreste Tremblay. The committee will wait upon Superintendent Whalen of the Eastern Massachusetts Street railway company, for special cars and as soon as arrangements are made with the railway company, the date for the event, which will be in the early part of July will be set.

Golden Jubilee

principally, by a solemn high mass at 11 o'clock, celebrated by Very Rev. Fr. Tighe, O.M.I., with Rev. John C. Duffy, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. An elaborate and appropriate ceremony will be delivered by a native of the parish, Rev. William A. Connor of St. Paul's church, Dorchester. Cardinal O'Connell will preside over the ceremony, and a special musical program will be given under the direction of the choir director, William Goodin.

A procession from the Immaculate Conception rectory to the church doors, in which the O.M.I. Cadets will act as a military escort to His Eminence, will precede the mass. Besides acting as an escort, the Cadets will form a guard of honor. The cardinal is expected to arrive in the city during the morning, coming over the road from Boston, and it is believed that his secretary, Rt. Rev. Richard J. Haberman, D.D., will accompany him. Other clerical aides may be members of the party.

In connection with the silver jubilee of the pastor, which will be celebrated jointly with the church's golden jubilee, Rev. Fr. Duffy, O.M.I., and Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I., acted as deacon and sub-deacon, respectively, when Very Rev. Fr. Tighe, O.M.I., celebrated his first mass, 25 years ago, and are acting in the same capacity tomorrow. It is said that after the observance of the golden jubilee of the day in quietude at the rectory.

As the seating capacity of the church is about 2000, it is certain that more than this number will seek admission at the doors tomorrow morning before the solemn high mass and jubilee observance.

OUR BUSINESS NEEDS

It is to be regretted that the very instructive address delivered here on Thursday evening by former United States Senator Cartwright was not heard by a larger audience. His discussion of the economic conditions affecting business throughout the country, was the most convincing and illuminating heard here at any time, and we have had a great many discussions of business, its needs and the remedies for the depression now happily disappearing.

Mr. Cartwright told his audience that we cannot break an economic law with impunity and that the way in which we run about of this law, was in wild-eyed, world-wide agitation, feverish business activity, excessive expansion of credit and the pyramiding of prices.

Every panic in the last thousand years, says this authority, was world wide and was preceded by the same symptoms. The present panic is reversing the process by which we incurred during the war and for a time following the war. Here are a few statements made by Mr. Cartwright, which, it seems to us, put the situation precisely as it is and also indicate the way out:

"We've climbed up the mountain of credit and we've got to come down. We don't like to do it, but we must. The longer we delay unloading, the more we will lose. I am urging the retail merchants all over the country to deflate their prices as soon as possible in order that they may get off as easily as possible.

"Germany has already deflated the end of the war. The result is that Germany has been selling goods and paying labor a great deal more than she did during the war. German industrial plants are working, orders are coming in from all parts of the world. We are witnessing the spectacle of a nation defeated in war and victorious in peace. In Germany there are not enough idle men to furnish a natural turnover of labor.

England and America and the other allies have millions idle while Germany has opened up the markets of the world and got the business, because she deflated first."

Discussing the question of wages, this speaker states a truth that is often lost sight of when he says there is a scientific wage high enough to afford the worker the comfort of life enough for the merchant, the banker and worker; but low enough to enable our industries to compete with our strongest competitors and make a fair profit on their investment. If wages are lower than they should be, the purchasing power of the worker is impaired and he cannot purchase what he needs. Each group of workers is helping to pay the other groups; and if any one group gets more than its share, it is robbing the other groups. "The problems of industry are not solved by fighting but in the forum of reason."

In such statements there is food for reflection for all those who are in any way interested in the fixing of wages, or in the settlement of labor troubles. There should be more discussion of these subjects and a more frequent resort to the forum of reason; but if either side to a dispute refuses to take part in such discussion, the other parties can do nothing except hold out or surrender. That explains the interminable labor controversies which at present dot New England and settle nothing.

CONGESTION IN COURTS

Fully 75,000 deponents in the closed Boston trial companies may be compelled to wait one and possibly two years, or longer, for further dividends, because of thousands of cases awaiting trial in the superior courts.

Attorney General Allen has filed a supplementary report with the legislature recommending that existing statutes relative to judicial procedure be changed so that in any action at law or suit in equity in the superior judicial court or in the superior court, the court may, on motion for cause shown, advance the action or suit for speedy trial. Unless this or similar legislation is enacted, the trial of many cases which must be determined before the closed banks can be completely liquidated and dividends paid to worrying depositors, probably will be delayed a year and even longer, according to county officials.

The move on the part of the attorney general appears to meet indorsement of the legislature; for in the supreme court, cases can be advanced for hearing when there is a good reason for prompt action. This is true also of cases before the United States supreme court and of certain other jurisdictions. The same rule should be enacted to govern the disposition of docket cases for trial in the superior courts, as the attorney general suggests.

Out in New York, there is a conflict over the enforcement of the Lusk law which would have all public school teachers submit to a test of loyalty in the form of an examination by a special committee. The chairman of the board of education has just notified the teachers that they need not respond to the call of the advisory committee, which is conducting investigations as to the loyalty of teachers against whom complaints have been lodged. Some of the teachers when asked to sign a pledge not to advocate any change in the form of government, complied, but added in the margin these words: "Except as provided in the constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence."

The law is rapidly becoming a farce, and the board of education has good grounds for notifying teachers against whom the board has no complaint, not to notice the committee that have undertaken to enforce it. This

THE LUSK LAW

Lusk law is a result of the bitter socialist fight of some years ago.

HOT WEATHER PRECAUTIONS

With the coming of hot weather it is in order to take special care of young children lest they become affected with the usual summer diseases which, if not promptly checked, will result in cholera-infantum. Where the little ones are panned in close tenements in very hot weather, it is difficult to keep them from being sick. A day's outing in the cool shade of some suburban wood or summer resort will greatly help to keep them in their normal health. With the hot weather, they usually lose their appetite, unless they receive proper care and treatment. Now is the time to look out for such ailments, as neglect of children under five years old, especially during very hot weather, may prove fatal later in the season. Precautions at this time will save lives and help to reduce the infant mortality.

FIREWATER

Robert Gilbert went to Paris as official taster for the Quebec liquor commission. His job is to sample various kinds of firewater, to make sure that his part of Canada will import only the best.

Gilbert reports that he is 2000 "samples" behind. To preserve his efficiency and make his workday last its usual length, he tastes the samples but does not swallow them.

What chance has the tariff or the coal strike or other mighty problems when the news contains such real fairy tales as this? It would be interesting to know how many Americans will consider Gilbert's job the height of success.

He is a man in a million—able to taste without swallowing. We have heard of some Americans who would take a job of that kind for a very small salary, but that no swallowing stipulation would bar them completely.

A CRIMINAL MENACE

Any man who uses a motorcycle side-car or an auto for the purpose of picking up young girls and running them into the wilds to assault them, should have short shrift from the police and the courts. Yet a man who has several assaults of this kind pending against him, reappears in court on a charge far less serious than many for which men have been hanged in the south. Every man of this type should be in jail as he is a menace to society while at large.

Another side to such cases is the simplicity and foolishness of girls who accept an invitation to ride in a side-car or an auto from a strange man, who under the guise of politeness and civility, may be as ravenous as a wolf. Young girls can hardly be expected to know or to realize their danger in accepting such invitations; but they might at least be expected to heed the warnings of older people not to leave themselves in the power of such men.

FLAPPERS

A statuette of a flapper who existed in Egypt 5000 years ago is exhibited in the Boston Art Museum. It was dug out of an ancient tomb.

The statuette shows the flapper making bread. Her hair is bobbed. For 5000 years the earth's tailing nations still are bobbing hair and baking bread same as our long-gone ancestors. Does this indicate that mankind has undergone any great change in that time? If we had descended or ascended from apes, our progenitors of 5000 years ago should be a little more ape-like than we, but the difference is not discernible.

Life runs in cycles, eternal repetition. The parents of the ancient Egyptian flapper probably made a great fuss when she came home from the hair-dresser's with her locks short.

BUREAUCRATIC MEASURES

Much interest will center in the suit to be brought by Attorney General Allen to test the constitutionality of the Sheppard-Towner federal maternity act, which he declared to be clearly a violation of the tenth amendment. If his opinion in this respect be sustained, then the same charge will apply equally to the whole series of bureaucratic measures emanating from Power and a few others who seem to think that the national government should be transformed and centralized at the expense of state rights. If Attorney General Allen succeeds in knocking out these bureaucratic measures, he will have rendered a very important service to the state and nation.

CAAPI

When certain South American natives go on the warpath, they take captives, a drug extracted from the root of a jungle tree. Caapi makes the warriors absolutely fearless, and super-humanly courageous, says Dr. H. J. Rusby, of Columbia University. He observed the drug in use while on a scientific expedition.

In the next big war, drugs like caapi will be the most important fighting weapon. It is not improbable that the general of a retreating army will telephone for a few thousand barrels of stuff like caapi, to be rushed by airplane.

Where is the glory of war, when it is reduced to a laboratory or chemical battle? Without that glory, no enthusiasm.

GOVERNOR COX BEATEN

In the defeat of the bill for state control of county correctional institutions, Governor Cox and Speaker Young suffered a rather severe defeat. The governor had advocated the change for many reasons, and there were numerous heated discussions of the proposition not only in the legislature, but outside. The close of the session, however, as in the previous year, saw the plan defeated by a vote of 53 in favor to 133, for a majority of 50 against. This result must cause Governor Cox to feel that he has lost his pull with the legislature as he and his friends have been outdone by the so-called "county rings."

FOR ASH COLLECTOR

Now that there is a list of eligibles for the position of superintendent of ash collector, it is presumed a choice will be made for a successor to Sutton Wilson. The salary fixed for Wilson was $18, but if this is out of proportion to the other salaries paid for similar work, it should be reduced. There was no need of the position anyhow, as the work could be done under the superintendent of streets as it was formerly done under the control of the health department or the superintendent of the yard.

It is too soon for the Central bridge to be giving way. It is seldom that even a poor job shows such disregard for the feelings of the contractors. The conditions under which the work was done, however, were such as to make a first class job almost impossible. Cement work on a bridge kept in continual vibration by heavy traffic is not likely to have the proper bond. The bond of the company, however, is pronounced all right by the law department.

Perhaps a little experimenting in street work will be beneficial in the long run. The board of public service has decided to have parts of Westford and other streets resurfaced with "Anastote," a term which we confess is new to us; but the material may be all right although new to Lowell. The board experts are to be the judges. That is what they are paid for.

Mayor Curley has been unable to swing the legislature for the five cent fare and so one of his campaign promises has fallen by the wayside. With Loransey fighting him from the inside he could hardly expect to win.

The Lowell Ad club with its "Scheming Circle" always planning something to help Lowell, is a real live and thoroughly progressive organization. It endeavors to help local industry, local merchandising and to spread the fame of Lowell far and wide.

Boston, like New York, has now several murder mysteries which its police officials are unable to solve. The latest, that of Police Officer Farthing, seems to be the work of auto bandits, who left no evidence by which their identity could be traced.

Now suppose—merely suppose—the city council should confirm the mayor's nominees for the board of assessors, what might happen to the property owners of Lowell?

Bondsmen are banned on the Fourth of July. We have had too many bondsmen in the past few weeks.

The budget and auditing committee is expected to do its duty when asked to approve extravagant auto bills.

The municipal baths will prove a life saver in the hot weather.

Let everybody try to banish the dro-fond from Lowell.

A NEW BILLION DOLLAR INDUSTRY

Reports from authoritative sources in the motor truck industry indicate that the motor truck manufacturers are not only doing a larger business than at any time since the war, but that the industry, as a whole, has attained a volume never before equalled.

The annual expenditure in this country this year for motor trucks and commercial cars will exceed a billion dollars. This total includes an expenditure of $200,000,000 for the 250,000 trucks of all sizes that are being manufactured this year and an investment of $700,000,000 for the maintenance and upkeep of the 1,000,000 trucks already in operation. (Running four times as many hours, traveling twice as many miles, as the average automobile,) says the June 15th issue of the Commercial Car Journal, "the average truck wears out and consumes about twice as much material of all kinds as the average passenger car."

"On the $1,000,000,000 automobile bill of the country, approximately $100,000,000, or nearly one-fourth, is spent on the maintenance and purchase of commercial cars and trucks, the use of which is increasing at a greater rate today than is the passenger car."

"About 250,000 commercial cars will be built in 1922. The f.o.b. sales value of these trucks will approximate $250,000,000, or nearly one-quarter of the total sales in the motor truck field."

"Gasoline, tires and lubricating oil are the principal items to be considered under the head of operating supplies."

"Between 1,100,000,000 gallons and 1,200,000,000 gallons of gasoline are annually used for motor truck operation. At an average of twenty-two cents per gallon, the gasoline bill will total $220,000,000."

"Nearly 5,000,000 tires will be required this year for commercial cars. These will cost approximately $175,000,000."

"About 75,000,000 gallons of lubricating oil at fifty cents per gallon will bring the bill for commercial car lubrication to $37,500,000."

"Sales of truck equipment will consist principally of special bodies, cranes, hoists, winches, cushion wheels, etc. About 200,000 special jobs at an average of $300 apiece will be required this year. Other truck equipment, costing about $15,000,000, will bring this total of equipment sales up to approximately $150,000,000."

"Replacement parts constitute an increasingly important car field. Sales of such parts in 1922 will total $75,000,000."

"Labor for service and repairs is figured at about $140 per truck per year, which brings the total for over 1,000,000 trucks to about $140,000,000. It will be seen from the above figures, therefore, that total sales in all branches of the commercial car industry will be well in excess of one billion dollars for the current calendar year."

SEEN AND HEARD

If we were Dempsey, we would be fighting all the time.

Arthur says he found out at city hall that a success is a man who climbs while the failures are waiting on broken-down elevators.

Paul F. Godley, America's foremost radio authority, and radio expert for The Sun, says that radio will bring campaign speakers into homes. Lord deliver us!

Muriel Rebelled

"Mummy," said Muriel, indignantly, "did you hear what auntie said to me?" "Yes, dear," was the reply. "Well, mummy," said the child rebelliously, "I'm not going to be brought-up by another woman."

A Thought

If men would believe that they are in process of creation, and consent to be made, let the Maker handle them as the potter his clay, yielding themselves in responsive motion and submissive, hopeful action with the turning of his wheel, they would ere long be able to welcome every pressure of His hand upon them, even when it were felt in pain.—George MacDonald.

Applies and Books

G. B. Burgin, who has written over 60 novels and has just produced his second book of personal memoirs, tells of a popular novelist of whom the public wearies. He retired from the country to grow apples, and then he wrote his last book. At his wife's suggestion he sent it to a publisher under another name. The book was a great success. The author wrote other successes and the secret has been kept to this day, while the public marvels at the wisdom of the "young author."

What's the Use

A scenario writer experienced great difficulty in getting his plots accepted. As a rule, they were so uninteresting that a complete hearing was seldom granted. At last he managed to persuade a weary producer to listen to the synopsis of his latest play. "Imagine," he began, "midnight, all silent as the grave. Two burglars flash open library windows, and eventually commence operations on the safe. 'The clock strikes one.' 'Which one?' yawned the producer."

Student Too Fresh

The professor of mathematics prepared to set out on a short journey on horseback. He was an absent-minded person, and while saddling the animal he was talking out an intricate problem. Some students stood near and watched him abstractedly place the saddle on hindpart before. "Oh, professor!" exclaimed one of the group, "you are putting the wrong end of your middle foremost." "Young man," replied the professor, "I am, you are entirely too smart. I have not you know I was when I have not going?"

Today's Word

"Today's word is hale. It's pronounced—like 'hall,' a word, however, to which it is otherwise entirely unrelated, being an older form of the adjective 'hale,' which means to haul, to pull or draw with force, to drag; hence, to compel to go along. It comes from—'haler,' of German or Scandinavian origin, and is akin to Anglo-Saxon, 'healdan,' to acquire or get; Danish, 'halen,' to fetch, pull or draw; to Old High German, 'halon,' to Swedish, 'hala,' and perhaps to Latin, 'calare,' to call or summons. It's used like this: 'The sailors hailed at the ropes,' or, more commonly in new England, at the day, 'various attempts have been made to hale Boris Bakhmeteff, retiring Russian diplomat in this country, before a congressional committee.'"

Major Breches

A well-born, but impetuous colonel owed a considerable sum to his tailor. The latter, who had a large and flourishing business, was very ambitious and desirous of getting into a good social circle. He therefore suggested to the colonel that in lieu of paying his debt he should introduce him and his wife to his friends. In the end the colonel agreed, and not long afterward the tailor received an invitation to dine. In the full glory of perfect fitting clothes the colonel failed to recognize him, so as he shook hands he said, very quietly: "Pardon me, my dear sir, I quite forgot your name." "Quite likely," said the other, "but I made your breeches." "Ah, yes," said the colonel, with a smile; then, turning to his wife, he said: "My dear, allow me to introduce Major Breches."

Idiom

I draw the bolt and sweep the hearth and take a trait and two; I set the kettle on to sing. The while I wait for you, I tend the fire with patient hands. So quiet outwardly, Yet all the time a wild bird beats Within the heart of me.

The west wind murmurs woefully, And dusk comes creeping soft and sweet; The olive branch in the road I dance, beckoning my feet:

And O the white moon rises so high: And my own sapphirine star Is calling; calling; calling me To take the trail afar!

I draw the bolt, and take the lead, And bid the white moon ride— For your love calls the spirit of me And may not be denied.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Register of Deeds William C. Purcell reports a very large business for the month of May. From January of this year there had been a decline in business, but May seems to have jumped away into the front, some thirteen hundred deeds having been recorded. Whether this will continue remains to be seen, but it does show that the real estate market is good and that there are ready buyers.

Civil court, presided over by Justice Frederick Lawton came back to the court house on Monday, and adjourned yesterday to resume on the 15th. In the meantime the registry of deeds will be the only busy office at the court house and indeed it is a very interesting one to enter. One is impressed by the courteous treatment by Register Purcell and his employees, the excellence of their work and their business-like manner of conducting the affairs of the office. The local registry is one of the most important offices in the county as it executes, keeps and preserves the record title to all pieces of real estate in the county; and I dare say that the local registry of deeds as conducted by Register Purcell ranks as one of the best in the commonwealth.

The Careful Crossing Campaign

which started June 1 and will continue through the summer until September 1, should provide deep food for thought for Lowell motorists. According to recently published statistics, there are 1000 motor vehicles in this city, a tremendous number in proportion to the population. I don't think it is exaggerating to say that every Sunday sees at least 5000 of these cars on the road. When we take into consideration that we are but a small part of the country and that there are thousands of other cars from surrounding territories, we can easily realize that danger is always imminent. The speed maniac, who delights in driving immoderately, will surely meet his Waterloo some day when he least expects it. The present campaign was inaugurated principally for the purpose of using devices to use every means possible for averting accidents at railroad crossings. In the past, the fault has been generally traced to the operator of the machine who failed to "stop, look and listen" when approaching the deadly crossings. Wild joy rides usually culminate in disaster, so that prospective joy riders will do well to keep watch ahead, especially where railroad tracks cross the thoroughfares.

The young men who so ably rescued the horses of the John P. Quinn Co., at the recent fire in their coal yards, are deserving of some credit for their foresight and heroic work. They had gained such headway that they feared a rescue was impossible. Sensing the inability of the livestock to extricate themselves from their perilous positions, the four young men unhesitatingly entered the stables and loosed the excited animals from their stalls. It had not been for their quick action, the horses would in all probability have perished.

Considerable criticism has been heard recently of the policy employed by some police officers of sending boys who commit misdemeanors, such as riding bicycles on sidewalks, etc., to the police station in the police patrol. The question is asked by some of the indignant parents of such delinquents, "What is the use of grabbing a boy by the collar and taking him to a box to await the arrival of the patrol, with many curious people standing by, and thus treating him the same as a serious offender, in the opinion of many unwarranted. All boys are liable to make mistakes, and if they violate laws, naturally they must expect punishment, but to cast such a stigma as a 'ride in black maria' on a youth's name, when a summons to court would prove just as effective, seems to be the wrong method and one that an officer of good judgment would not care to adopt where the offense is nothing more serious than riding a bicycle on the common, something that has gone unheeded for years.

The radio is daily giving evidence of its permanent establishment in the hearts of a great many Lowell people, who have become fascinated with the idea of receiving and transmitting messages through the medium of this wonderful discovery. The young and old of both sexes have become attentive "listeners in" to high class concerts, speeches, etc., and though unfamiliar with the many peculiarities of the radio outfit, have come to recognize it as a very amusing and entertaining vehicle. The more advanced pupils of the radio find the work both instructing and interesting as well as a very valuable aid in venturing away their spare hours. If things continue as at present, it looks as though the phonograph will soon be relegated to the background, as far as its entertaining qualities are concerned.

ANNUAL MUSICAL BY NOTRE DAME PUPILS

The annual musical by the pupils of Notre Dame academy was held yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large and attentive audience of parents and friends. The program consisted of some very difficult presentations flawlessly rendered by the young pupils, clearly showing the result of intensive training and much diligent practice.

The program opened with an introduction by the orchestra entitled "The Queen of Sheba," followed by "A Message," the little girls; "Come Ye Fairies," chorus; "The Last Rose of Summer," harp solo, Miss Estelle Corfey; "Polka do la Reine," the orchestra; "The Swan," semi-chorus, Misses Margarette Bourgeois, Gertrude Regan, Margaret Cahill, Juliette Mar, Juliette Marin, and Mildred Pare; Sonata in A major, violin, Miss Marguerite Bourgeois, piano, Miss Agnes Nolin; reading, Miss Alice Saunders; "The Swan," semi-chorus, Misses Margarette Bourgeois, Gertrude Regan, Margaret Cahill, Juliette Mar, Juliette Marin, and Mildred Pare; orchestra, "Liebesfreud," orchestra.

The accompanists were the Misses Ellen Dwyer, Etheldrida McKenna, Elaine Leard, Ethel Saunders and Gertrude White.

At the conclusion of the entertainment, a silver medal for proficiency on the violin was awarded to Miss Marguerite Bourgeois. For excellence in piano music, testimonials were granted Etheldrida McKenna, Mildred Pare, Ethel Saunders and Gertrude White.

Rev. Joseph A. Curtin of St. Patrick's church presided.

Men Leaving Newfoundland for N. E.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., June 10.—Government and press of Newfoundland express alarm at the heavy emigration of young men from the colony to New England and Canada. This summer, transportation lines report, the rush of emigrants is unprecedented. Practically every settlement in Newfoundland has lost its quota of young men this season, reports received here say.

Old Coney Island, in New York, at its highest pitch where he is on the trotting, bobbing with the wheel of a powerful, speedy car, with the throttle open to the limit. He handles a car exactly as is evidenced in this new race story, "Across the Continent."

Mary McLaughlin, who has starred in many successful pictures, and one of the popular beauties of the screen was chosen to play the leading feminine role opposite Mr. Reid in this new production. She has a delightful role of secretary to an automobile manufacturer who is secretly in love with the manufacturer's son. In a transcontinental race, she does the mechanic's overalls and drives at breakneck speed beside the star, undergoing with him, all the thrills encountered when travelling at a dizzy speed in a racing car.

Theodore Roberts, one of the most popular actors on the screen and a gentle artist, plays Wallace Reid's father. His name is on a par with many present day stars in drawing power and popularity.

High class literature on the screen will be offered Merrimack Square theatre patrons in "The Ordeal," the second big feature for the early part of the week, starting August 1st. The production was directed by Paul Powell and the plot is based on a story by W. Somerset Maugham, a well-known British playwright and novelist.
Conrad Nagel, who plays the leading male role, heads a strong supporting cast.

A comedy and the International News will complete the bill. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the features will be "Slutters," a drama starring Jennie Owen and Owen Moore, and "Midnight" with Constance Binney in the leading role.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Wallace Reid in "Across the Continent," Special Feature for Monday,
Tuesday and Wednesday

Manager Nelson has arranged another of his uniformly excellent programs for the Sunday show at the Merrimack Square theatre. The feature attractions will be Enid Bennett in "Keeping Up With Lizzie," and a specially selected cast in "Hearts of Youth."
The usual high grade surrounding program will also be carried out in Lowell's coolest and most comfortable amusement house.

For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the features will be "Across the Continent," Wallace Reid's latest automobile racing production, and "The Ordeal," starring beautiful Agnes Ayres.
If "motor" implies speed, action and thrills, then Wallace Reid is a meteoric star. His rise to screen fame was meteoric. Still under thirty, he is one of the pioneer stars of the silver-sheet. His striking personality and exceptional portrayals, have made him a brilliant figure and a prime favorite with motion picture audiences. His pictures are always filled with good content and one which goes never flag or tire.

And speaking of speed! He is literally the speediest star of the screen, by virtue of his automobile racing pictures which have proven so popular. Mr. Reid now comes forward again with another such picture, a Paramount, and one which goes a step further than any before have done. It involves a transcontinental race, and is filled with speed, thrills, action, excitement, romance, and good dramatic quality.

Driving racing automobiles is one of Mr. Reid's hobbies. His enthusiasm is

Radiographs

Dad, in His Office, Watches
Over His Children—By Radio!

W. J. Sovereign, of Bay City, Mich., can keep track of his children, wherever they may be.
Radio is the connecting link.
Whether they go horseback riding, swimming or boating, dad, at his office 25 miles away, keeps watch on them by wireless.

Here, Sally and Bill Jr. are shown starting off on horseback. Their radio receiving equipment is in a case before ears.

And dad, back in his office, warns them:

Radio Will Bring Campaign
Speakers Into Homes

BY PAUL F. GODFREY.
America's Foremost Radio Authority
Political aspirants had better begin developing their broadcasting voice.
Their election may depend on it.
Late last November I was invited to speak before the London Society of Wireless Telegraphy. I told about my conception of radio broadcasting as a great national scheme—which called for a working combination between our broadcasting stations and our telephone systems. And I expressed a belief that this would all come about by the time our next president was inaugurated.

It's coming even sooner. Women of Pennsylvania helped nominate Gifford
Pinchot for governor by radiophone.
Nation as Audience.
By 1925 several millions will listen to our next president delivering his inaugural address—and hear every word of it—by radio.
During the next few months considerable campaign speaking will be broadcast.

It has been the practice, apparently, for political nominees to spend huge sums of money in getting their messages to the people. In national campaigns, the expenditure of this money has entailed grueling journeys from one end of the land to the other—and many disappointments.

Sometimes the political aspirant would arrive at a strategic point during extremely inclement weather. Occasionally the strain of the trip would bring about a breakdown at the height of the campaign.

All this is out out by the use of radio.
Speeches at Home
I am quite sure that those persons who are really sincere in wishing to get the views of the several nominees would much prefer to sit at home with their radio receivers clipped to their ears and receive distinctly each word spoken, than stand in the hot sun or perhaps the cold rain—part of a huge crowd straining its ears to catch an occasional phrase.

Only a beginning has been made in electorology by radio.
But the movement will grow rapidly. Candidates will find that they cannot very well afford to overlook the remarkable possibilities offered by radio broadcasting.

Its ramifications are limitless.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem
MAGICIANS

The olden magicians were bearded and gray.
They did all their stunts in a ponderous way.
They mixed up strange potions that bubbled and smoked
And all of the spirits of wrath they invoked;
They called on the devil and all his relations,
They muttered dread phrases and fierce incantations,
Like "Abracadabra" and "Allagazam,"
And yet, at the finish, their magic was sham!

The modern magicians are kids in their teens,
With nothing of hokum or bunk in their beans;
Some pieces of junk and a bundle of wire
Are all that these up-to-date wizards require.
To build you a radio set, that will tap
The waves that are hurtling all over the map;
They bring to you voices that throb through the air,
Believe me, these boys are magicians for fair!

If old Cagliostro or Merlin came back—
Those priests of a magic excessively black—
They'd find themselves humbled by some freckled kid
Who works more enchantment than they ever did;
And when they returned to the wizards long dead
No one would believe even half what they said,
And thin spectral laughter would follow all through
Their tale of these marvels that children can do!

The meeting is being held under the auspices of the A.A.R.I.I. and a new council embracing districts unable to function for want of a proper meet-crucial time when friends of Ireland should not hesitate or be intimidated by propaganda. It is their bounden duty to fill up the ranks for the achievement of the final victory for which they have subscribed and worked so hard and which is nearer to accomplishment than ever before.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS-BUILDING NOTES

This Bungalow Has Charm

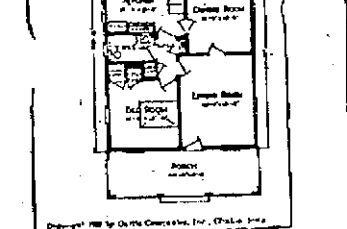

The Curtis Service Bureau, Clinton, La., designed this house to be built at a cost of approximately $6000 including heating, plumbing and wiring. Prices, of course, vary in different localities, but a local estimator's figure would come somewhere near this mark.

For many a family, a four-room house would answer all the requirements of a real home. Many who are now paying rent on houses they do not like, or who are crowded into tiny box-like apartments could build their own homes. If they were willing to forego some of the formal rooms which are really hardly ever used. An unused room in your house, or one used only as a waste of money in initial construction and furnishing, but also in upkeep, taxes, and an unnecessary burden of daily cleaning. Such houses are imitations of the establishments of others, rather than honest expressions of our own individual life.

Perhaps some of our aversion to small houses has been due to the belief that the smaller the house, the less care was devoted to its plan and to its appearance. And this belief has no doubt had good foundation in fact in the past. Recently, however, a good deal of attention has been devoted to American small-house architecture by architects of standing, and some little cottages have been planned which are just as practical, and just as beautiful, as the more pretentious dwellings of the rich and near-rich.

One of these is the honest little house pictured here. One of the distinctive features of this excellent front porch make one think involuntarily of the old-fashioned New England plain hip roof, with narrow eaves, and a small porch, so small part of the attractiveness of the exterior is due to the 12-light windows and shutters, which give any house a particularly small and individual quality and charm impossible to attain with huge sheets of plain glass.

Both the exterior and interior details of the house are carefully designed in the characteristic six-panel design, without glass, as is fitting in an entrance which opens directly upon one's living room. The living room lacks a fireplace, one of the sacrifices made to economy in this cottage. However, it is pleasantly rectangular in shape, and has windows on two sides, and a good inside wall space for plants or drapery. From this room one may pass either to the passage connecting the front bedroom and the kitchen at the left of the house, or the dining room to the rear of the living room.

A cross-circulation of air is arranged in the pleasant front bedroom, leaving good wall space for the bed, where it need not be in the draft. A clothes closet and a linen closet are built into the hall near the bathroom, which is conveniently located with respect to every room in the house. Another small closet in the hall may be used either as a coat-closet or a broom closet.

The kitchen is provided with built-in cupboard and working space, and an inside basement stair, with a window specially provided to light it. All interior woodwork should be paneled in this house, if you would carry out its Colonial motif. This applies to doors and china cupboards, though these latter may be paneled without violating tradition. For this finish, they may be had in birch. The rest of the woodwork is in pine for enameling.

Furniture for this house can be purchased from A. E. O'Hair & Co., in Hartford on reasonable terms—Adv.

REAL ESTATE SALES

Thos. H. Elliott, Real Estate
Thos. H. Elliott, Real Estate and Insurance, with offices at 64 Central street, corner Prescott, reports the following sales negotiated during the past week:

On behalf of James B. Russell of the Wampanoag Power Company conveyance has been effected of the residence at 61 North street. The house formerly belonged to the late Fannie M. Reed of Paris. It fronts directly on Park Garden and is equipped with every convenience. The grantee is Theodore Teller, manager of the P. & Q. shop on Central street. Mr. Teller is already in occupancy of the premises.

Final papers have been passed in the transfer of the residential parcel at 27 Mount Hope street in the Pawtucketville section. The house has seven rooms and bath. The land conveyed totals 420 square feet. The grantee is A. D. Phillips who purchases for personal occupancy.

On behalf of Mrs. Annie Stett Walker conveyance has been effected of her residence at 28 Berkeley ave. The house is of recent construction and contains seven rooms and bath. Land to the amount of 460 square feet is conveyed in the transfer. The grantee is Charles C. O'Malley, buying for purposes of investment.

Also the sale of a two-apartment property at 68 Tyler street. The apartments have five rooms each. The land conveyed in the transaction totals 520 square feet. The transfer is negotiated on behalf of William B. Northrup and Jennie Northrup. The grantee is Frank Krol. The sale is effected in conjunction with the office of Martin Robbins & Son.

On behalf of Mary E. Mooney conveyance has been made of a large two-apartment parcel at 203 Moore street. The apartments have eight rooms each and are modern in every detail. The land conveyed totals 5785 square feet. The grantee is James A. McLean who buys for combined purposes of investment and occupancy.

UNUSUAL ACTIVITY IN BUILDING SITUATION

NEW YORK, June 10.—With regard to the general building situation, S. W. Straus & Co. say:

"There is every indication at present that unusual activities in the building situation will continue throughout the present season.

"There is a steady inquiry for capital for building purposes with an increasing demand for buildings of non-residential type. Apartment houses and apartment house hotels of large dimension also are growing in demand in the larger cities.

"While the present extensive building developments are greatly adding to the housing situation and are equalizing the wide margin which has existed between supply and demand, it is to be borne in mind that, as the standard of living improves in America and as new conveniences and arrangements are developed in apartment house construction, there is a correspondingly increased demand developed. It is to be expected that a strong and steady demand for high class apartment houses will be sustained.

"There is every indication that, taken from the standpoint of the nation in general, are quite well stabilized. It is not apparent that anything will be gained by holding off for better prices, although with the continuation of present activities there will be shortages of both material and labor at various times and places. But there is no apparent reason why current building activities should not move along steadily throughout the season.

DEDICATION OF PARK AND SQUARES

Washington park, the Roy-Longtin square, located near the park and the Joseph Belanger square at the railroad station will be dedicated on July 4, and the exercises will be held under the auspices of the Lowell Highlands Improvement association. Plans for the event were discussed at a meeting of the association held last evening in Notre-Dame de Lourdes parish hall in East Pine street, with President Thomas J. Fitzgerald in the chair.

The exercises will consist of the raising of a flag at the park; followed by a band concert and addresses by prominent speakers among whom will be Mayor Brown. Appropriate exercises will be held later at the two above mentioned squares.

In the course of last evening's meeting improvements for the park were discussed and it was voted to request Supt. Kernan of the park department to provide better facilities at the park. The park committee of the association consists of Thomas J. Fitzgerald, chairman; Rev. Joseph A. Daniels, C. M. J. Representatives Adolphe Berard and Victor F. Jewett, Councilor Smith J. Adams, Louis J. Lord, Joseph J. Beaupreant and Joseph Provost.

TWO STRUCK BY SAME AUTOMOBILE

Irene M. Shapiro, aged 4 years, residing at 100 Essex street, received a scalp wound, bruises on the face and arm and probably a fractured elbow when she was struck by an automobile in Chelmsford street late yesterday afternoon. Timothy Meehan, of 88 Huntington street was also struck by the same machine and was slightly injured. The little girl was taken to the Meehan Corporation hospital, while Meehan was treated at his home.

The accident occurred at the junction of Chelmsford and Howard streets the automobile that figured in the accident being operated by George H. Mollahan, of 638 Chelmsford street. Mollahan claims that the Shapiro girl ran from the sidewalk into the path of his machine and was struck and knocked to the ground. In trying to avoid hitting the girl, he struck Meehan. Frank E. Cullen, of 55 St. John street, removed the little girl to his home, while Mollahan took Meehan to his home.

SHOE STORE RELOCATED

Traveler Co. in New Location Offers Features for Discriminating Buyers

After ten years of service to the buying public, in which time it is claimed that every customer has been satisfied in every respect, the Traveler Shoe Store, formerly located in the Bradley block opened its new store at 52 Central street this morning. The new store is larger and better equipped in every way. Nearly 60 more customers may be served at one time than in the old location, where only a double row of seats could be placed. In the new store another row may be added. Also, there is more shelf room and a larger stock can be carried, giving a wider range of values and styles. During the day models from Boston and New York, charming young ladies, all of them displaying the high Russian boots which are finding such favor in the larger cities at the present time. A large supply of these boots is on hand, in sizes and shapes to fit everyone. This exhibit proved one of the day's greatest attractions. Everyone who purchased a pair of shoes at the new store today was given a pair of silk hose as a special reminder of the occasion. Souvenirs also were distributed to the children on the street. The Traveler Shoe Store specializes in moderately priced shoes, and recently every pair of shoes in stock was marked at either $4 or $5. Not a higher price is charged for anything in the store. The store claims that its ability to offer low prices is due to the fact that the shoes comes directly from maker to wearer and that quality rather than price is the first consideration. The shoe store is located at 52 Central street, between the Bradley and the Traveler blocks. The store is a fine example of modern shoe store design and is so laid out that the samples displayed may be shown to the very best advantage. Inside the lobby formed by the projection of the two windows, are two doors leading into the store itself, with glass panes beautifully designed and lettered. On entering the store one finds on the left a spacious cashier's office, with plate glass all about the top of the woodwork. A multitude of shelves packed to the top with brightly labeled shoe boxes give the impression of a great metropolitan shoe store and the seating arrangements for patrons provide the maximum of comfort and privacy. Maurice J. Lambert, Jr., a member of the school committee, has been manager of the Traveler Shoe store since its installation in this city and he will continue in the same capacity at the new location. The same staff of experienced and courteous clerks will be in attendance, as the old store is to be closed. Mr. Lambert himself is one of the city's best shoe-fitters and his assistants are well trained in this important matter. If the plans of the new store and its management are realized, the new location will be the scene of a rapid expansion in business within the next few months.

BREAD AND MILK ARE BODY BUILDERS

At some time long before the dawn of history, man had discovered the value of the grains for food. Bread in some form antedates recorded history. And before the beginning of records, probably long preceding his advent as a husbandman, man was a hunter. The highest eulogy in very early times upon a land was that "it flowed with milk and honey." Long before the advent of food chemistry and its relation to nutrition, our forebears had discovered the invigorating, life-sustaining combination of bread and milk. And the new food chemistry has added to the knowledge of the plastic material protein and of calories furnished by this combination by disclosing the marvelous mineral salts so essential to life and the growth producing vitamins so abundant in milk. Although a truism, it doubtless needs emphasis with many people that no meal is complete without its bread in some form and at least one glass of milk. In most of the Boston schools milk can be had by the children for their lunch. Vacation days are almost here. It is then up to the home to keep up the supply of this well high perfect and complete food, milk. Bread and milk week is planned to emphasize this need. More than nine times out of ten, the undernourished, anemic child was produced by insufficient use of milk as food. The free use of milk in each day's food supply is the surest way to build sturdy boys and girls. For the between-meal lunch, bread and milk stand unrivalled. Their quick and easy digestibility leaves the digestive tract in readiness for the succeeding meal with the appetite unimpaired. In those hot days, the business man will be wise to turn to milk as the essential part of his noon lunch. As bread has been called the staff of life, so may milk be termed the elixir of youth.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

More Liquor Cases on the Docket—Fines and Direct Sentences

A series of liquor cases, all of which were summarily fought, dragged today's district court session to beyond the noon hour. Added to the list of liquor cases, the insertion of a case involving a statutory offense, the trying of which lasted for nearly an hour, halted the usual swift disposition of other cases.

The feature case of the session was one in which George Blake, proprietor of a near-beer saloon at the corner of Tremont and Moody streets, and Philip H. Jacques, a clerk in the establishment, were charged with illegal keeping and found guilty. Blake, a second offender, was sentenced to three months to a fine of $100, while Jacques was fined $150. Both men appealed through counsel.

Employee Makes "Buy"

Officers of the liquor squad testified that a police employee had made a "buy" at the saloon and that a subsequent search of the premises revealed a pint bottle of moonshine which was half full. Jacques admitted selling the stuff to the police employee and attempted to bribe the officers with all knowledge of the sale or of the fact that liquor was on the premises. It was brought out by defense counsel that Blake was not on the premises at the time of the sale but that he entered the saloon at the same time as the raiding officers. The court said that he believed Jacques was not telling the truth. The man who made the purchase was not present in court, a fact which defense counsel brought out. The court said that he thought the man in question should have been brought into court, if such a thing were possible.

Mario Machado pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and was fined $100. She paid.

John P. Donohue, who conducts a near-beer saloon at 423 Central street, was found not guilty of illegal keeping and ordered discharged. In making this disposition, the court ruled there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a finding of guilty. According to the raiding officers' testimony, when they made their way into the saloon, a small quantity of what they considered whiskey was found in a bottle and two men were in the back room and were alleged to have been drinking. Some liquid, found on the bar, was swept into a bottle and brought to the saloon. Officer Connelley testified the stuff looked like whiskey, smelled like whiskey and tasted like whiskey. The liquid was sent away for analysis, but there was not enough of it to furnish a test.

Asked Officers to Swear

After the officers had testified, the judge turned to the defendants and asked if any of them would swear that the stuff was whiskey. Officer No. 1 stood up and said that he would say that it was whiskey. When asked how he knew he said that it looked like whiskey, smelled like whiskey and tasted like whiskey. The judge then asked Connelley if he would positively swear that the liquid was whiskey and the officer answered in the negative. The defendant was then discharged.

Another case which opened at 10 o'clock, but which was not completed, continued to Monday had to do with a raid on a near-beer saloon at 91 Middlesex street. The place was raided on May 20 at 6:40 o'clock by delegation from the liquor squad.

John Coyle, who was tried earlier in the week on charges of disorderly conduct by assaulting a woman, but whose case was continued until today, was discharged. Coyle was accused of assaulting a woman, an employee of the Hamilton mill. The woman was walking to work with a male co-worker, when, according to the woman, Coyle accosted the man with a beating. The woman then told Coyle to go along about his business. Following the trial the court said that he wished a little more time to consider the case and took into the law.

Admits $25 Theft

Martin Vesnicki, who pleaded guilty to being drunk on June 6 was today given a three months' sentence to the house of correction. Sentence was suspended for six months. During the trial last week, Martin's wife testified that he had taken $25 from her and that he also took a watch on another occasion. Martin denied both charges of larceny last week, but today admitted taking the money.

He promised to pay back the money to his sister, through the probation officer, and to keep away from his sister as the court directed.

Thomas P. McCarthy was given a six months' sentence to the house of correction after pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness. Sentence was suspended for one year. The case was a holdover from June 1. Only the report of his indignity saved him from a direct sentence as the court said that under the circumstances he would give McCarthy as long a term as he was permitted for his acts while drunk. The indignity complained that McCarthy got drunk, came home, and when she ordered him from the house, he turned on her and struck her several times. She exhibited a severely bruised arm. She also walked with a pronounced limp as the result of an injury received when she fell down while running to summon an officer.

Did Not Want to Press Case

The court wanted to know why an assault charge had not been brought against the indignity's counsel answered that his client did not wish to send the man to jail, but would be satisfied with a suspended sentence. The two O'Neil brothers, William J. and Timothy L. of Billerica, faced charges of drunkenness. They were placed on probation for six months. The young men, together with Leo Donnelly, James Henry, both of Billerica, were arrested by Officer William H. O'Brien of the Billerica police. The Donnelly boy was returned to the Lyman school where the Heaney boys will come before the juvenile session Friday. The O'Neil boys testified that the four of them had come to Lowell for an auto ride and were stopped on Middlesex street by a foreigner who offered them whiskey for $1.20 per pint. The court pressed the young men in an attempt to find out more about the case, but the boys were unable to give the desired information.

MASS NOTICE

FITZGERALD—There will be a month's high mass of requiem at St. Peter's church, Monday, June 12, at 8 o'clock, for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald.

INTEREST ON MORTGAGE

Directors of Local Greek Community Start Drive to Raise Money

A drive to raise $15,000 in order to prevent the Five Cent Savings bank from foreclosing its mortgage and selling the community real estate at auction, was started last evening by the new board of directors of the local Greek community, headed by President Apostolos Johnson. The movement was launched at a mass meeting held in the lower part of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street and so enthusiastic were some of those present that they even donated jewelry, photographs and other things in an endeavor to swell the fund. During the meeting $2,800 was collected in cash and the articles donated towards the drive were valued at about $800, making a grand total of $3,600.

Another mass meeting will be held tomorrow morning at the church at the close of the regular service and at that time a committee will be appointed to visit all the business places and homes of the district and President Apostolos Johnson expects that before the middle of next week the directors will have attained their goal. A week from tomorrow it is expected that Bishop Germanos of New York will come to this city to help stimulate the drive if it is not over by that time.

The debt of the community to the Five Cent Savings bank is a little over $70,000, on which considerable interest is due. The community also owes taxes and water bills for two years, it is said, and in addition the sum of $15,000 to the Lowell Trust Co. It is being planned to raise enough money through public donations to the community to pay the interests at the Five Cent Savings bank in order to prevent the foreclosure of the mortgage and later to issue bonds to the amount of about $85,000 to members of the community in order to wipe out the bank's mortgage altogether.

A prominent member of the community and a former president stated this morning that as soon as the bank matter is straightened out, an endeavor will be made to amend the by-laws of the community by which no one will be authorized to sell any of the community's real estate or to purchase any new real estate for a period of five years and after that time all purchases or sales will be done only after a general vote of the community members. The community, in addition to the church in Jefferson street and the school on Middlesex street, owns a block of dwelling houses in Worthen and Dummer streets, the monthly receipts for which are approximately $500.

President Johnson failed in his endeavor to bring the two communities together last Thursday night, but it is said that he will attempt it again. The directors of the Holy Trinity community and the officers of the Assumption community met in the school hall in Worthen street to talk over the proposition of the seceding faction returning to the old community, but the conference did not accomplish anything for the members of the Assumption community are now negotiating for the purchase of a building in Common street, which will be converted into a church and they feel that they can best conduct their own business themselves. It is said they would have returned to the old community if the matter stood as during the past few months.

CREMIN—The funeral of Patrick J. Cremin took place this morning from the home of his sister, Mrs. Patrick J. Wallace, 73 Whipple street, at 8 o'clock and was largely attended by many sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral services were held at St. Patrick's church, where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass was celebrated by Rev. Francis X. McGann, O.M.I. The sacristan choir under the direction of Mr. John Kelly, sang the Gregorian chant. There was a profusion of beautiful floral offerings to the high altar in which the deceased was held, as well as many spiritual bouquets. The casket was borne by the following bearers: Patrick J. Cremin, John J. McGann, William J. Devine and John Mooney. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read at the grave by Rev. Fr. McGann, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Connell & Fay.

TIERNY—The funeral of Patrick H. Tierny took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his late home, 228 Westworth street, and was attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Margaret's church, where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass was celebrated by Rev. William P. Brennan. The choir sang the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Miss Katherine V. Hennessy and Cornelius Callahan. Prof. Louis Gullabault presided at the organ. There were many floral and numerous spiritual offerings to the altar. The casket was borne by the following bearers: Patrick Shurue, John Drury, Michael Kelley, Dr. Thomas Tierny, Michael Tierny and Frank Tierny. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Brennan. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough and Saunders.

RICHARDSON—The funeral services of Charles N. Richardson were held yesterday afternoon at the Rathles home, 92 Rolfe street, Rev. C. E. "Father" Dwyer of the First Universalist church, officiated. The burial tributes were numerous. The funeral cortege proceeded to the family tomb at Fairview cemetery, Westford, where the committal service was read by Rev. Dr. Fisher. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker William H. Saunders.

INCREASE IN THE LOCAL DEATH RATE

Following a week that produced one of the lowest death rates since the middle of last year, the city's mortality increased somewhat during the week ending today. Twenty-five

LOCAL ATTORNEY'S UNUSUAL CLIENT

About 7:30 o'clock last evening while Lawyer Frank J. Garvey sat in his new offices in the Appleton Bank building, poring over dusty tomes of Blackstone, delving into the labyrinthine phases of the old common law he was disturbed by a whirring sound which came through his window, and upon looking up, to his astonishment he saw perched upon one of his cabinets a fair sized pigeon which stared at him unblinkingly, but unlike "The Raven" no sound came from it. The aerial client which made its entry so unceremoniously seemed quite at home and acted as one of its kind might be expected to act. The feathered bird seemed quite tame and allowed itself to be picked up without ruffling a feather. As the bird had a circle of metal on its leg bearing an inscription, and as it possessed rare beauty, Squire Garvey concluded that his visitor was not of the ordinary type. Phoning to the police station he was asked to care for his guest and put him up for the night.

UNIQUE BATTLE OF MUSIC AT KASINO

A battle of music will be staged at the Kasino next Thursday evening with an electrical magnavox broadcast, accompanied by a radio orchestra. The radio one-string violin will be manipulated by its inventor, Joseph J. McCann, 800 Merrimack street. Tonight Mr. McCann, accompanied by James E. Donnelly and Mrs. Alice Donnelly McLaughlin, will visit the broadcasting station of the American Radio and Research company, at Bedford Hills. Mr. Donnelly will sing several of his well known selections, and his sister, Mrs. Alice Donnelly McLaughlin, will accompany Mr. McCann in "Sunny Tennessee," "Why Dear?" and "Spring Song." These two attractions should prove of great interest to the public, as Mr. McCann's invention, which has been proven practical and successful, is not known to many up to the present time, and is something altogether unique in the radio line.

It is not like any other musical instrument in the world. It doesn't resemble in appearance a violin or anything else. In fact, it doesn't look any more like an instrument than does a wrench or a vacuum cleaner. Yet when McCann strums up on the tone string and lets out with the how it gives out the sweetest music imaginable.

SALVATION ARMY FUND GROWING

The Salvation Army home relief fund is nearing the $6000 mark, with the money coming in gradually, if not rapidly. Since the last report several hundreds have been added to the gross sum, although only a large number of them have been received. The Gagnon company has turned over $25, and Hon. James B. Casey and the employees of the Ideal Comb factory, $10. All the rest of the company has been raised by house to house subscriptions by the ladies of the Salvation Army.

OLD FIRE HORSE DROPPED DEAD

One of the pair of black horses attached to Horse 10 in Pawtucketville dropped dead yesterday afternoon while that company was wetting down streets in the neighborhood of the Lowell General Hospital. The animal apparently was in sound health, although he has been in the fire department for more than 20 years.

With his running mate he was a familiar horse in the department when attached to the old protective when that company was at the Warren street house. When the protective was motorized in 1909 he was transferred to Horse 12 and later when that company was motorized he was shifted to the Pawtucketville house.

JOHN M. FARRELL Auctioneer
OFFICE, 162 MARKET ST., LOWELL, MASS.
Real Estate at Public Auction
SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1922, AT 3 P. M. AT 88 VARNUM AVE., LOWELL, MASS.
I shall sell at public auction this very desirable residential piece of real estate consisting of a 3-story slate-roof house. The house has 10 large square rooms and 3,000 square feet of land, more or less.
First floor has reception hall, parlor, living room, dining room, kitchen, pantry and back hall. Sitting room has fireplace, dining room has china cabinet built in and inlaid hardwood floors. Kitchen has set tub, porcelain sink, hardwood floors, plenty of closets. The house has electric lights and gas and is heated by steam.
Second floor has 5 large sleeping rooms, large hall, modern bath room with open plumbing, hardwood floors, large storage room on top floor.
This house is one of the best built houses in Lowell. It has a high posted, well lighted cellar with bulkhead, has bay windows and piazzas on front and side. There is a large garage with storage for 3 cars; also a horse house.
The house sets back on the lot and has a good lawn in front. There are shade trees, concrete walks and granite steps. There are apple trees, pear trees and cherry trees and a good sized garden. Electric cars pass the house. It is near church, school and stores. When has opportunity to purchase at your own price a home of this kind so near the city with every improvement and the benefit of the open country been offered before? A more healthful location can be had for less money.
I shall also sell an electric washing machine, electric mangle, leather upholstered divan and some other furniture. You are invited to look at property over any day before the sale.
Terms of sale—$500 must be paid as a deposit to the auctioneer as soon as the property is sold. Other terms at sale.
JOHN M. FARRELL in charge.
